Summary: It seems the left has become what they once feared. Unfortunately, as the facts continue to unfold, the larger picture appears increasingly clear. It is what we think it is. Meanwhile, Americans are being forgotten, left behind to navigate growing division, unrest, modern guerrilla warfare, cold wars, slavery wars, and ideological and cultural battles unfolding within our own territory. It is a very painful experience for those who love our country, America, and who do not want to embrace foreign changes, especially those brought forth through manipulation, coercion, intimidation, and force. It may come as a surprise, but many Americans do not want to support protesters who commit crimes, loot, target public servants, engage in acts of violence, political trafficking, or terrorism.

This is all extremely hurtful to the American people.
