

New Guiding Foundations

Union of Saints

1. Youth Volunteer League — K–12

- A youth volunteer organization serving students from kindergarten through 12th grade.
- Participants are separated into appropriate age brackets.
- Programs are organized by geographic regions.
- Activities include community service, civic education, leadership development, local history, and volunteer projects.
- We work together to help our local communities and work hard to keep US beautiful!

2. Modern Saints — Fully Online Curriculum

- A fully online educational curriculum focused on developing young people through historical, cultural, scientific, ethical, and civic education.
- Sports, coaching, and class programs are also offered in person.
- The curriculum is organized by age level, allowing students to progress through increasingly advanced material.
- Lessons incorporate regional history, service projects, personal responsibility, and community involvement.
- The program brings education, physical activity, mentorship, and community participation together in one system.

3. Acadian Conservative Society — Maine, Vermont & New Hampshire

- A regional organization focused on Acadian heritage and civic participation across Maine, Vermont, and New Hampshire.
- The organization preserves Acadian history, language, traditions, family histories, and connections to American heritage.
- A youth leadership program provides education about government, public service, political institutions, and participation in public life.
- Young participants receive opportunities to develop leadership, public speaking, civic knowledge, and community-service experience.
- Participants may later pursue elected office or other forms of civic leadership according to their own political choices.

4. American Heritage Conservative Society

- A regional organization centered on American history, heritage, civic education, and conservative political thought.
- A youth leadership component introduces participants to government, public policy, political history, public speaking, campaigning, and community service.
- The organization provides educational and civic opportunities for young people interested in participating in political life or eventually seeking public office.
- Young people develop practical experience through community involvement, leadership activities, civic education, and public-service opportunities.
