Why Does US Support This Truth?

Loyalty is both spiritual and energetic, It also leads to actions. Those actions can contribute either to peace and stability or to war and division within the United States. Because we support unwavering loyalty to the United States, its security, its safety, and its constitutional order, we believe that supporting American citizens and strengthening our nation are among the most important steps we can take.

A strong and united nation is better positioned to safeguard itself against foreign adversaries, hostile influences, and potential threats to our security. Promoting public responsibility, national cohesion, and a commitment to the well-being of the American people, helps preserve peace, protect our communities, and uphold the principles upon which the United States was founded. The American people should be supported both in politics and in their pursuit of success.

Government exists to serve its citizens, protect their rights, and create the conditions in which individuals, families, and communities can thrive. When public policy is focused on the well-being, prosperity, and security of the American people, it strengthens the nation as a whole. Supporting Americans means ensuring that citizens have opportunities to succeed without undue global competition, participate meaningfully in the political process, and contribute to the future of their communities and country. A strong nation is built upon the success, engagement, and confidence of its people.
