

The Heartbreaking Reality of Religious Persecution, Saints

Persecution of the Latter Day Saints in Michigan is a heartbreaking reminder that, in this case and many others, hate was the primary motivator. It is difficult to understand how someone can harbor so much hatred. Sadly, religious persecution is not an isolated experience but has become increasingly experienced in recent years. We wish this were not so. Still, we remain proud to be part of a country that honors the values of freedom and faith with such strong and unwavering conviction.

Union of Saints stands devoted to sharing these realities, honoring all those involved, and remaining committed to human safety and healthy boundaries, especially regarding the right to worship with others and to share our hearts and spirits through faith. We offer our prayers and love to the LDS followers in Michigan and to all the public servants who served to help.

Sincerely,
Union of Saints
