

Altering United States Cultural Fabric Via Transnational Repression on US Campuses

Changing Campuses: 90% Foreign, 80% “Diverse,” Still Employing DEI and Foreign Leverage Programs — How Does This Impact American Students? Particularly White students who are forced into a minority category without any human rights support and who endure particularly violent human rights abuses including race-targeted murder.

Positive Review: MPI — 90% Growth at U.S. Universities, Foreign and Non-White

Negative Review: Americans, Cultural Replacement, Therefore Cultural Dissonance

Universities are essentially a part of the “seismic cultural shifts” and are contributing to immeasurable racial harms against White Americans and Americans.

Altering American culture via our university systems was never a question on the table for Americans; we were simply forced to accept it. Then we witnessed a hijacking of our media, body-parts trafficking, chemical warfare and biowarfare, protest terrorism, mass propaganda campaigns and other harms against US. What’s the deal with our schools? Don’t worry, Americans will pay the bill.

Highlights: Abdul Razak Ali Artan, who attacked Ohio State University students with a vehicle and knife; Faisal Mohammad at the University of California, who stabbed four people on campus; Mohamed Bailor Jalloh, who killed an ROTC instructor; Mohamed Atta and Marwan al-Shehhi, two terrorists on student visas who hijacked the plane and bombed the World Trade Center; the Tsarnaev brothers, who committed acts of terrorism against MIT; the University of Central Oklahoma suicide bombing by a Saudi Arabian international student; Old Dominion University; and others.

Likewise, despite the massive number of international students and the 90% growth at universities (made by Americans, by and for Americans), these universities were still teaching DEI, still teaching critical race theory, still promoting diversity initiatives for White student replacement, and still accepting the teaching of “White excess” as normal. They were still allowing professors to disparage White students. At some universities, nearly the entire upcoming class was non-White, yet they chose not to advertise using any White students. Universities have been particularly against advertising to White male students.

These subjects continue and are exhausting. For example, one subject to explore is “Foreign-government/transnational repression on U.S. campuses.”

Please see the article above, and we also have the article text on our page.

American students are not only being “replaced” by foreigners, but are also experiencing “subversion” and targeting. American race activists join in on “ending White supremacy” by targeting White students. Some Americans have endured vicious terrorism attacks, including gross exploitation of their student funds. On the surface, the experience may look to students as “just favoritism,” or “I just failed,” or “the teacher did not like me,” or “my paperwork just got lost,” and the next thing they know, $50,000 of their funds go missing and they are expected to pay the bill. There has been a lot of shady business occurring within universities, and the American people were innocent, vulnerable, and simply had no clue that this was all happening. They were just plain relentlessly targeted, over and over, by this ugly foreign and domestic corrupt organized political crime network occurring on U.S. soil. It wasn’t a small grid either; it was experienced across the United States and, in, as you can imagine, 90% foreign students, well... the math is already written out for us.

Don’t get me started on body-parts trafficking at Harvard and the organ industry. This topic is so disturbing it shocks the conscience. In our opinion? This was all no less than a war front. Save your teens! Make sure you are fully involved every step of the way, remain vigilant to modern war, terrorism, foreign infiltration, and U.S. hijacking, always^{}.^{} We blinked! From this stage forward, let’s keep our eyes on the lookout, on guard and on watch. Otherwise? They will take everything from the American people, everything.
