

Legal and Illegal Industry Organ Trafficking

Force, Fraud, Coercion

🚨 NOW THIS: California organ donor warning

Removing the pink donor dot from your CA license at the DMV does not fully take you off the donor list.

A woman says her friend opted out at the DMV. After an accident she was declared brain dead. Because she was still in the Donate Life California registry, the hospital took her organs and her bones.

The family brought her current ID with no pink dot. It wasn't enough. They couldn't stop it.

Hospitals check the registry, not just the license. California law even states that marking "I do not wish to register" at the DMV will not remove you from the registry.

To actually remove yourself: DonateLifeCalifornia.org (or <https://lnkd.in/g/pXNf54>) If you've lived in other states, check those registries too.

They are coercing and forcing people to donate organs via the DMV, and they are not responding in states like New Hampshire. I asked to be removed when I applied, but they made my license with it anyway. I have been fighting this ever since, and they "pretend" my documents were never received, yet I kept the paper trail. It prompted me to research this experience. Unfortunately, I found a myriad of issues, including fraud, as well as a very corrupted organ industry. They make a huge profit off of coerced donated organs. I believe that this industry needs to be heavily investigated for organ trafficking.

Unfortunately, my intuition, investigation and findings of this experience were confirmed. This is not just “industry corruption,” it is warfare via legal and illegal organ trafficking against the American people. I do support federal and industry reform. I also support telling Americans the truth about what really happened.
