It's really hard to believe that White House press secretaries have gone from educated, intellectual, prepared people like yourself and Nicole to whatever it is we witnessed today. Just a sad state of affairs.

Jen Psaki is an example of a very weak speaker. She chooses language that is hurtful, radical, and extreme, uses evil dialogue, and attacks women. She opens with logical fallacies.
There is a major difference between the two speakers. Katie Zacharia spoke in facts and was very clear in her dialogue, which was respectful and kind the whole time. Psaki doesn't make her case as a public speaker, but rather the case for why MS NOW has turned toward evil. I would view this as forms of information warfare and the spread of hatred and evil against the opposing party during a time...
