

It's Obvious. The West, Cartel & Gang Rich Coast Know: Who Is Lighting the Fires.

Left- and foreign-wing media twist reality with false claims that activists are not responsible for starting fires; this is the mass media response. It is disturbing for anyone whose social media algorithms aligned with the fires in California and with what can be considered real news: social media users showing real evidence and videos, many live, including very disturbing campaigns calling for fires by left-wing anarchists—of churches, of flags, of plantations being burned; calls to take down statues; middle fingers raised at old monuments; and anarchist parades we have witnessed. Fuel to the fire, along with alcohol, lowered inhibitions, and drugs, all of which can be seen in video footage and now the history of social media communication.

Don't forget Teslas, courthouses, residential buildings.

Sadly, we even saw people lighting themselves and others on fire in recent years.

We know who they are!

I, as a witness, saw videos in which activists lit fires and saw the arrests of arsonists, as well as those who were never charged. At this stage in my case analysis, I could not be more disturbed by the lies and smears told by the left to cover honest and truthful charges made by the right, which are without a doubt true, as evidenced by extensive information readily available on the internet.

We are witnessing the betrayal and treason of the American people, no less.

What saddens me most is the denial, as well as the force, coercion, and intimidation we see from the left, backing Americans into a corner, taking our flag with them, and inverting the truth to blame the American people for crimes committed against them. This is not a left-right issue, and I want to make that clear; this is a good-versus-evil issue. The truth is the truth. And if the truth is weaponized against the innocent who suffer at the hands of criminals, it is, politely, civil conflict.

Dear Left, your anarchists are committing atrocities and crimes against humanity.
