

Extreme Patterns, Democratic Party

They have made it clear, the goal is to take the arc.

We arrive again at the understanding that the patterns within the Democratic Party are far too extreme. Especially with the cementing of anti-White sentiment, combined with the philanthropic efforts within the Jewish communities and corporations, globalism, and the "trickling" effects of war overseas. The party is incomplete in its understanding of the full scope of history, as well as present-day issues.

Today, modern slavery, genocide and war mitigation are our number one priorities, still the Democratic focus is anti-White in nature. Anti-White, Anti-Straight, Anti-Religious, and Anti-American. Even with full knowledge of the rapidly declining White population, the train continues.

Self-serving, like a savage beast, hungry for more. America no longer serves the beast's hunger. The corporate train heads elsewhere; still, it lives within the United States, and its prey is brought home like carcasses left on our doorstep. We are left to clean the blood, the guts, the mess. A good feast, a good meal, but others are left to starve. We can see the atrocities of the deadly sins and what may occur when political movements become so extreme, the cost is life, it is war. Power, control, money, politics → supremacy. Just add race conflict, unchecked violence and slavery. Our home, now a war zone.

Hungry for the wrong thing; hungry for evil. A rapidly dwindling population wasn't enough. Slavery built on the backs of great Americans, innocent Americans, vulnerable Americans, hardworking American citizens, still it wasn't enough. It will never be enough, for the war is on US.
