

America Belongs to Americans

Our enemies don't want Americans in power, so they label it "White supremacy."
Instead, they're hiring globally. They are posing an active threat against the American people.

Think about it this way, in Mexico, do they call Mexicans, the Mexican supremacy?

If activists want to change "supremacies," go to other countries, and advocate for the minorities there, go ahead, make our day. They may be surprised to find they have a whole lot less leverage there, however. More than likely that foreign nation will tell them where they should go. If activists are trying to gain power over a Native people, and that Native people says no: We don't blame them either. People have a right to represent and protect themselves.

America belongs to Americans.

Source: <https://fitzpatrick.house.gov/2026/7/house-unanimously-passes-fitzpatrick-golden-bipartisan-bill-to-ban-foreign-money-in-american-elections>

Source: <https://luna.house.gov/posts/rep-anna-paulina-luna-introduces-bipartisan-bill-requiring-influencers-to-disclose-payments-by-foreign-governments>