

Human Trafficking of White Children and Adults by Traffickers from Different Racial Groups

D. Cowdrey

- The idea that “white women” hold “supremacy” and are therefore “for the taking” or “for subjugation” is human slavery.
- Individuals or activists who embrace this mentality are not advocates; they are traffickers.
- Human rights and civil rights are only about protecting freedom; they are never about subjugation.
- We are living in a time when Hispanic, Black, foreign religious, and ethnic groups dominate organized crime.
- White children and adults are being treated as slaves by men and women from various racial and ethnic groups.
- Activists, in many cases, are major contributors to modern slavery in contemporary society.
- This experience is not “made up”; it is documented, witnessed, and supported by data, statistics, and overwhelming evidence.
- We are witnessing activists commit harm against everyday Americans through hate speech, racism, and human trafficking.
- If there was ever a time for judicial intervention against trafficking activists or racially targeted exploitation, that time is now (please note this includes all race-based targeting, both white and others).
- Free speech does not protect hate speech. Where courts interpret it to do so, such decisions may be challenged, appealed, and remanded.

Sources and Research

This analysis draws from a combination of publicly available and primary research. Key sources include the U.S. Department of Justice, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, scholarly articles, reputable news reports, and reports from established anti-trafficking organizations. Personal narratives from survivors and documented case studies further corroborate these findings.

Our blog, Slavery Wars, compiles our research notes and follow-up analyses. For additional data, comprehensive research packs covering U.S. human trafficking and organized exploitation are available at www.slaverywars.wordpress.com. ## Harm Progression

Abuse → Leads to Subjugation → Escalates to Oppression → Results in Slavery
Abuser → Subjugator → Oppressor → Enslaver

Opposite / Liberation Progression

Recognition → Empowerment → Liberation → Freedom
Awareness → Protection → Justice → Emancipation
Support → Advocacy → Restoration → Liberation

- Recognition / Awareness: Noticing and acknowledging harm.
- Empowerment / Protection: Taking action to give agency or safety.
- Liberation / Justice / Restoration: Undoing the harm and restoring rights.
- Freedom / Emancipation: Full autonomy, protection from coercion, and dignity.

Example Context:

- Abuse → Subjugation → Oppression → Slavery
- Recognition → Advocacy → Justice → Freedom

The Union of Saints supports intervention and the reversal of these cycles of harm, emphasizing empowerment, justice, and restoration for all victims.
