

Osiram & Ozirah: Language of Discernment and Grace

This document brings together two complementary language sets used within the Union of Saints framework:

- Osiram Energy — language for gently naming manipulative, pushy, or overreaching dynamics while maintaining calm boundaries.
- Ozirah Energy — language for affirming choice, alignment, nurturing balance, grace, and peace.

Together, these provide a compassionate vocabulary for discernment without hostility, correction without domination, and boundaries without cruelty.

Part I: Gently Naming Osiram Energy (Boundary Language)

- That feels a little Osiram-adjacent.
- I'm sensing a bit of Osiram pressure.
- That energy feels slightly Osiram-leaning.
- This feels more Osiram than I can hold today.
- I'm noticing some Osiram push.
- That came in with Osiram force.
- I'm stepping back from Osiram flow.
- That feels Osiram-directed rather than mutual.
- I'm choosing not to follow Osiram momentum.
- I'm gently disengaging from Osiram energy.

(Additional Osiram boundary phrases may be added or appended as needed for ministry, doctrine, or pastoral care.)

Part II: Choosing Ozirah Energy (Affirmation Language)

1. I am choosing Ozirah today.
2. I move in Ozirah energy.
3. I align with Ozirah.
4. I rest in Ozirah's grace.
5. I choose Ozirah over force.
6. I lean into Ozirah peace.
7. I move with Ozirah grace.
8. I remain anchored in Ozirah.
9. I choose Ozirah alignment daily.
10. I choose Ozirah—always.

This language may be used for personal grounding, pastoral guidance, community discernment, and maintaining sacred boundaries rooted in compassion and consent.

Closing Reflection

Where Osiram seeks to press, Ozirah restores balance.

Where Osiram dominates, Ozirah nurtures.

Where Osiram disrupts consent, Ozirah returns sovereignty.

We name Osiram gently, and we choose Ozirah fully.
