

Anti ICE Protesters in Maine Supported by Soros

Posing a Genocidal Risk to New England Communities Through the Use of Mass Instrumental Migration

"New Americans" → Strategic initiatives to move and mobilize hundreds of thousands to Maine, millions of foreigners to New England.

Very clearly a genocidal movement posing as humanitarian.

Soros supports mass instrumental migration, surveillance campaigns, foreign power, and Russia. They seem to think that our lives, heritage, and culture are a game to overcome. They are actively posing a threat to the American people.

Mainers need and require Maine representation, not foreigners who support foreign interests. Not Soros backed modern "Bolshevik/Menshevik" Bunds and anti-American campaigns.

Americans said, "No." Americans said no because their safety and freedom is at risk. This is not about politics, it is a matter of life, liberty and American survival.

Maine Democrats will choose a new nominee from the contenders, who include Nirav Shah, the former director of the Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention; Troy Jackson, a former state Senate president; Shenna Bellows, Maine's secretary of state; Dan Kleban, cofounder of the Maine Beer Company; and Jordan Wood, a pro-democracy advocate. Some, including Jackson and Wood, have called for ICE to be abolished after the shooting on Monday, and Shah said the agency shouldn't exist as it is currently operating.

Shah then studied economics at Oxford for a year, and afterward enrolled in medical school at the University of Chicago in Illinois in 2000.

^{[14][11][15]} Shah completed his J.D. degree in 2007 and his M.D. in 2008, both from the University of Chicago, and was a recipient of The Paul & Daisy Soros Fellowships for New Americans.^{[13][14][11]}
