

Profile of an anarchist first-born activist

Supports their parent's country of origin over the United States. Abuses American daughters. Possesses a disturbing sense of entitlement. Narcissistic, charming, and domineering. Orders Americans around. Feels superior. Enjoys creating problems for Americans and sabotaging them.

Participates in criminal forms of activism and generally enjoys disturbing the peace. Malevolent in nature. Grooms other activists and encourages them to commit crimes as well. Manipulates activist spheres. Displays sociopathic and psychopathic traits.

Grew up with little to no punishment for wrongdoing and now feels enabled as an adult to commit crimes. Knows he can get away with them. Tests societal rules. Recognizes no boundaries and follows no rules.

Actively agitates Americans, American service members, and police. Persuades others to agitate and instigate. Creates war paths, lights small fires, watches them burn, and takes pleasure in seeing the fire grow.

Preys on vulnerable activists. Engages in trafficking. Has known ties to mafia affiliates with connections to foreign enemies and the criminal underground. Night and day compared to a genuine American.

The goal is to wreak havoc on Americans, seize power, and build influence for foreign home countries while undermining the United States and its citizens.
