

Bend the Arc

How They Bend the Arc

"Bend the Arc is building a multiracial, multiethnic, intergenerational movement of Jews and allies all across the country who are rising up to build an American future free from white supremacy, antisemitism, and racism." --Bend the Arc

Today, we are discussing the trafficking spheres and assault spheres within the realms of activism, and how they are leading to American genocide, with white women, innocent American white women, being victims.

The goal of genocide and trafficking artists is to bend the arc, bend the covenant, bend the rules. They do this by breaking the backs and the hearts of American culture, what once was majority held by White American Christians and minority held by BLAMESOVJF.

Americans welcomed other cultures, not to overwhelm us, but to join us in life and liberty.

White supremacy *written in this text, in America, is simply White American. It is our culture in America to be white. Sorry if White offends? No, I am not sorry, I am red-eyed angry.

And so, to target, subjugate, and seek supremacy over white Americans is, simply put, terrorism and war. It is slavery, and its goal is never for whites, anything but. It is the antithesis of Humanity.

This sort of activism endangers Americans because it gives power and weight to foreigners over our citizens, and it strips Americans of their truth, their culture, and their values.

We look back at what America was just 40 years ago compared to today, and we can witness this arc bending. Terrorists cheer, while Americans pray over graves.

We meditate and process on the journey of white women today, victims of genocide, holocaust, femicide, cultural targeting, and horrible forms of racism, into the stage of psychological warfare, and even street violence, such as what we have witnessed recently: white American women being burned alive, acid being thrown on them, being stabbed on buses or in bus stations, raped and trafficked.

At this stage, we see where the true pillars are and where the false knives are. We see the knife in the back of the American people, and we see the rules that were bent, the heart that was broken, and the covenant with God that was broken so that others may rise in the place of those who fell, fell victim to foreign supremacy, foreign warfare, and slavery.

No, we do not support activism movements or the realm at this stage. We submit only to God, to revere our culture, and we strengthen our backs and our covenants once again, taking the knife out while now grasping our swords and shields, facing our enemies forward with bravery, with a bird's-eye view, courage, and pride.

With new legislation, that we have all intentions of pursuing, for all crimes of moral turpitude, and all crimes of Satan, or Osiram, and all crimes against humanity, we do not stand with those who seek to depopulate Americans so that they can feel more power from the wind of the American flag that OUR ancestors hoisted.

We know who the flag truly belongs to. And while anthropological white Americans may be just 20%–22% of our nation now, much thanks to the knife that was placed in our backs, our American spirit and soul lives on.

Bleeding hearts, bent arc, broken covenant and all, we march on.

Red, White & Blue.

Healing hearts, restoring our “arc,” and our covenant, and embracing the glory of god and the TRUE American Spirit once again.

~No means no.~
