

Tucson

For profit and for pain; the silenced suffering of American people.

Key Points:

1. Cartel and illicit political campaigns largely behind illegal mass migration, record crime.
2. Activists push anti state agendas aiding foreign enemies.
3. Tucson far below authorized officers, politics plays a role.
4. Tucson Political Realm: Regina Romero, Mayor, Matt Heinz – Anti-state campaign to cut prisoners in half.
5. Tucson has one of the highest crime rates in America.

For profit and for pain; the silenced suffering of American people.

From my experience as a victim, I feel that these campaigns are among the most harmful to the American public. They are exercised as a Democratic agenda, but ultimately aim to subjugate and harm the White Anthropological American and broader American population. They mirror WWII tactics, yet are expressed by Jewish political actors.

→ Research: WW2 Mass Migration Waves to USA

The framing is often against hate speech antagonists, but there is still a lack of accountability, as Jewish individuals gain political momentum and benefit financially from hate speech, with hundreds of millions of dollars in grants and rewards gifted. One is labeled as harassment and intimidation and is no doubt frightening for American Jews, yet these campaigns of mass migration, blackmail, American sabotage, espionage, anti-statism, anti-ICE, “No Kings,” and “revenge porno,” as well as psych-war campaigns, continue.

Where is the line drawn? Where will accountability be held? While labeled as campaigns, it has become evident that these are not innocent politics. They mirror a twisted sort of freedom, but create new waves of genocide and slavery for the American people. The evidence of Jewish political campaigns paving the way to these new frontiers of American harm is landslide.

Patterns have emerged in almost every sphere of study, modern politics, modern slavery, mass migration, and the emergence of anti-state policies, despite record waves of crime and violence. These campaigns do not represent American values, but otherworldly values, and they are seen throughout United States politics not only as a Star of David shining, but as the tailors of the campaigns themselves.

I feel American slavery has become a norm. As I write this, I consider my own slavery to these issues—a matter of survival, of White American survival—from violence, genocide, and warfare. I am so concerned for my home, community, and nation that I am left with little time for normal life enjoyment. I remember when times were different, simpler, more American. My mind is constantly pressured to consider all factions of the current political climate we are experiencing.

Where Democrats embody the symbol for the international world, Americans are left in the dirt, if not six feet under. For those who have survived “suicide” and “trafficking,” they look on with severe concern; what happened from 2019 to today? Where did our people go? And who are these new foreign faces we now stand below and in the shadows of?
