This commitment entails at least 6 hours of volunteer service per year for the first three years following their graduation date. For each year that a graduate declines to participate when their services are needed, they will be required to repay one-third of the financial aid they receive for each year they fail to participate. The repayment amount will be consistent with the terms outlined in their enrollment agreement. However, graduates may defer their year of service if they are unable to participate in a particular year, provided that they fulfill their volunteer commitment within the deferred time frame. In-house payment plans are available.

STUDENT CONDUCT AND CONDITIONS FOR DISMISSAL

Attendance is crucial for success and graduation. Respect for oneself, classmates, and faculty is mandatory, as good attendance instills professional standards. The following policy applies every six weeks: perfect attendance is expected. Excessive absenteeism (more than 20%) is grounds for disciplinary action, including termination. Notification of absences or tardiness is required. Students may miss up to five days in a six-week period; on the sixth absence, students may be dropped from the class and must retake it. Legal holidays and breaks are not counted as absences. Students who are late within ten minutes of class start are marked tardy; after ten minutes, they are marked absent for the hour. Three instances of tardiness in a month count as one absence. Continued tardiness after initial counseling may result in suspension or termination unless the director deems progress unaffected.

Leave of absence requests must be in writing, including start and return dates. Unnotified absences result in termination and a refund per the Cancellation and Refund Policy. Students may take up to two leaves of absence per enrollment; a third requires program drop and re-enrollment later.

Make-up work for absences must be approved by the campus director. It is the student's responsibility to inform instructors of missed hours and required make-up work. Missed hours must be made up on campus. Students must pay $25 per make-up hour unless excused due to sickness (with a doctor's note), death in the family, or injury. Unapproved clinical absences cost $35 per hour to make up. Clinic make-up hours must be approved by the director. Students must attend all scheduled clinics. Absence without valid reason requires providing their own clients until consistent attendance is shown. Missed tests must be made up within a week, with a 10-point deduction. Make-up tests must be taken during school hours, not scheduled class times.

Professional behavior and respect for instructors and peers are required. Attendance under the influence of alcohol or intoxicating substances is prohibited. Smoking is prohibited in school facilities. Participation in all activities is mandatory; failure to participate results in being marked absent. Source Institute reserves the right to dismiss students for unsatisfactory conduct. Mandatory participation in all activities; lack of participation or minimal effort results in being marked absent. Comfortable, respectable attire conforming to professional standards is required; scrubs are encouraged. All courses are taught on campus. Class size is monitored for quality instruction, typically up to 12 students per instructor for lectures and labs, and up to 10 students per instructor for off-campus clinical massages. Source Institute may use copies of student work for promotions without prior consent. Cheating and dishonesty result in expulsion from the class and possibly the school. Suspected cheating without proof may require test retakes under controlled conditions.

STUDENT APPEAL PROCEDURES

If the student is not satisfied with the resolution, they may appeal the decision in writing to the School's Board of Directors within 10 business days of receiving the initial resolution. The Board will review the appeal, conduct any necessary further investigation, and provide a final written decision within 30 days. The decision of the Board of Directors is final.

All complaints and resolutions will be documented and maintained in the school's records for a minimum of three years. Throughout this process, the school will handle all complaints with the utmost confidentiality and ensure that no retaliatory actions are taken against any student filing a complaint. Students may contact the school's administrative office for guidance or assistance at any stage of the complaint process. This procedure is designed to address and resolve complaints fairly and promptly, ensuring that students have a positive educational experience at Source Institute.

COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

At Source Institute, we are dedicated to fostering a positive and productive learning environment. To address any concerns or grievances, we have established a clear and thorough complaint procedure to ensure timely and effective resolution. If a student has a concern, they are encouraged to first attempt an informal resolution by discussing the issue directly with the involved party, such as an instructor or staff member. If the issue remains unresolved or the student feels uncomfortable addressing it directly, they should submit a written complaint to the school's Director. This complaint should include a detailed description of the issue, names of individuals involved, dates and times of occurrence, and any supporting documentation.

Upon receipt of the written complaint, the Director will acknowledge it in writing within five business days. The Director will then conduct a thorough and impartial investigation, which may involve interviewing the students, involved parties, and any witnesses. This investigation will be conducted with respect to the confidentiality of all parties. Within 30 days of receiving the complaint, the Director will provide a written response outlining the findings and any actions to be taken to resolve the issue. If more time is needed, the Director will inform the student in writing, explaining the delay and providing an expected date of resolution.

Complaints must be submitted in writing to the director. While we strive to resolve complaints immediately, we reserve the right to resolve the issue within 30 days. If the issue remains unresolved, further assistance can be sought by contacting the Commission at 325 West Gaines Street, Suite 1414, Tallahassee, FL 323099-0400, or by calling (888) 224-6684.

As part of the Massage Therapy Program and Hybrid Massage Therapy Program at Source Institute Massage School & Therapeutic Bodywork of Fort Walton Beach LLC, students may elect to complete a designated number of elective hours in lieu of paying a portion of their tuition balance.

Elective hours are optional instructional or clinical service hours offered by the school and are not separately compensated. Students who choose to participate in elective hours will receive tuition credit for each hour completed, which will be applied toward their remaining program balance. This credit is non-transferable and does not constitute monetary compensation, wages, or reimbursement. No student shall receive cash or any form of payment in exchange for elective participation.

If a student elects not to complete the full amount of available elective hours or does not complete the hours within the designated timeframe, they will be responsible for paying the tuition balance equivalent to the uncompleted elective hours prior to graduation or issuance of transcripts.

Students who complete the required program hours for licensure will receive an official transcript and their testing agency will be issued a diploma on their behalf, enabling them to schedule their licensing exam. However, the student's physical diploma and graduation documents will be withheld until all elective hours have been completed or the remaining tuition has been paid in full.

All elective hour opportunities must be approved by the school and are subject to availability and scheduling. Participation does not alter the total required program hours for licensure.
