

Vote

Allow Equitable Financial Compensation Paid Directly to the Person Sourced From (“Donor”) for “donations” of Blood, Marrow, and Tissues (obtained by biopsy with minimal/recoverable damages to the host so probably not CNS neurons; PNS neurons might be safely selectively harvested).

Yea __

Nay__

Vote:

Require The Formation of an Adult Stem Cell, Marrow, and Tissues Bank that a reasonable fraction of “donated” tissues/cell lines etc from consenting adults can be stored long-term for either or both the use medically by the “donor” and/or private sale; market prices will fluctuate and a futures market will appear etc. Note: This might only be feasible if the immediate financial compensation is less than what the “donation” is worth.

Yea__

Nay__

Vote:

Require financial compensation for ethical commonly harvested sources of stem cells such as Umbilical Cord Blood.

Yea__

Nay__

Vote

Require any harvesting of Umbilical Cord Blood/ stem cells from newborn baby/mother to include saving a portion for the well-fare (medically and/or financially) of the Parent(s) to raise the child and the children themselves.

Yea __

Nay__

Vote:

Demand that Pharmacists be given Prescribing Powers that their Titles of Merit (PharmD) make them much more well-suited to do than for example the Psychiatrists whose Titles of Nobility (They Define “The meaning of the Facts” in secret Ch.51 WI statutes so-called-courts and are granted the Pass to violate rights under color of law; also they base their beliefs upon a book [DSM-5 and related] the rest of us who do real science consider to be a religion and/or handbook for unconstitutional social engineering (“picking winners and losers to make the appearance of their dogma being correct” }) are given more weight/credibility regarding the “advantages and disadvantages of Drugs” than the people who have been trusted for Millennia to practice Drug-based medicine; specifically regarding the classes of drugs that are now Prescribed almost only by Religious Zealots who care more about if you can “keep your mouth shut, sit still, and look ugly” than any chance of benefits for the Patient. Seriously Psychiatrists are called “Quacks” and have been for a long-time. The term originates from the Germanic quacksalver which means mercury, which the olden days psychiatrists used to shove up people's asses and called it medicine. Seriously the worshipers of Baal and Moloch don't have a place in our sacred sciences.

The Pharmacists need to understand that they are not to replace Medical Doctors and are only to act as Medical prescribers in True Emergencies such as emergency hypertension requiring benzodiazapines (the clinical standard for emergency hypertension). The reality is that they are to act as trained and historically sought out: for life and functionality enhancement that is voluntary.

For example Dextroamphetamine sulfate should be prescribed for unemployment, continued employment, preparing to vote, preparing legal argument(s) etc not diseases of the body or mind. It is also useful to have in case of stroke (dextroamphetamine sulfate improves stroke recovery, whereas methylphenadate and therefore presumably cocaine either don't or not as significantly_ the reversal of stroke symptoms is significant and more effective in combination with high-potency Marijuana as I experienced when I took the anti-helmenthic Praziquantel/Biltricide which if killing worms in the brain can cause stroke as they don't like to die: I collapsed to the floor and lost control of half my body/face dragged myself upto my desk and took a much higher than prescribed dose of dextroamphetamine sulfate remembering a publication I read and also smoked a bowl of very strong marijuana the real kind, this very quickly reversed the symptoms: within minutes)

Many benefit from that drug regardless of having attention deficit disorder, chronic fatigue syndrome from Lyme disease (me; yeah this is a difficult task while deprived intentionally of resources I ask for as punishment for refusing to sign an ROI to give the DHHS the power to blacklist me. I got fucking 5mg/day of dextroamphetamine sulfate prescribed when I was taking 40-60mg/day and they outright refused the Diazepam and GMO-derived neuronal growth factor eyedrops), or “work-shift disorder” etc truthfully titles of nobility that really are a part of how the DHHS/associated choose who wins, loses, dies, survives and thrives

In reality this plan requires that Pharmacists (many of whom are available 24hrs a day 7 days a week) will need to be able to act as emergency medical providers and be equipped to do so (never ever to include harmful treatments and/or procedures like antipsychotics). For example many who might need dextroamphetamine sulfate to pull themselves out of homelessness might be under such stressful situations that they either need to take more than prescribed to survive (ex took housing in a trap house that has chronic un-repaired gas leaks and they need to get through to neighborhood services, get enough energy to recognize and respond to the situation etc) or simply experience side effects that are exasperated by for example stresses that can kill if not handled (finding a safe place to sleep where the police won't pick you up and hand you over to the organ harvesters {psych wards}). I know I am suggesting a solution that might cause an increase in reported incidents of emergency hypertension but in reality it might just be that more are able to get to the pharmacists and/or hospitals when experiencing symptoms otherwise not reported b/c of the utter exhaustion that true efforts can result in. The ability to prescribe and distribute diazepam for emergency hypertension is essential if we are to prescribe dextroamphetamine sulfate to people who are on the brink of death already.

Yea ____

Nay ____

Vote:

Require that pharmacists given prescribing powers take the original Hippocratic oath, as I have and expect of anyone who practices any form of non-surgical (we can't use the knife, even my artificial organs don't require surgery in current forms) medicine under my corporations.

This prevents them from prescribing and/or distributing poisons like Antipsychotics, Lithium hydroxide, Sodium Fluoride, etc

This prevents them from prescribing and/or distributing "suicide substances." Really WTF those are totally assassination pills in any way taken. So even though Washington State ethically decriminalized most unconstitutional to prohibit drugs, I must still consider them damned for having murder pills available.

The controversial part is that they also would not be allowed to prescribe or distribute emergency contraceptives (I would argue that progesterone based birth control pills is not abortion so still permitted). Plan B is something I don't know to be ethical or unethical in terms of the Hippocratic Oath's prohibition of abortion as it is an overdose of progesterone meant to prevent pregnancy in the time-span after insemination but before conception; but if I understand it correctly can also end a pregnancy.

Yea ____

Nay ____

Vote:

Can pharmacists who took the original Hippocratic Oath distribute and/or prescribe emergency contraceptives that are controversial such as Plan B?

Yea ____

Nay ____

EVIL SS needs competent Partners and the Support of Ethical Industries and Professionals.
Join the (always) Militia(sometimes military)-Industrial-Pharmaceutical Complex

Best Regards,

Ryan Thomas Hock

CSO and Founder of the EVIL $$
B.S. Biochemistry and Biology
University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point (2012)