

Puentes 2025-2026 Policy Update

Beginning in August 2025, we will no longer be able to offer reimbursements for missed class days due to student absences. The monthly invoice will be according to the number of days of your class schedule (i.e. all Mondays and Wednesdays). This change helps ensure fairness to our teachers, helping maintain a full and consistent schedule. However, you are welcome to request a reschedule within the same week, and we will accommodate when possible.

We kindly ask that you continue informing us in advance when you will miss a class. This allows the teacher to use that time productively for curriculum planning, rather than waiting in Zoom. If you would like, you may also request practice assignments to be sent in lieu of your missed classes. We let the teachers know their schedules each Friday, so if you need to cancel or change a class for the following week, please let us know by then.

During the summer months, we will allow a reduced class schedule to be set in advance for the upcoming month, giving students flexibility to continue practicing Spanish around their summer plans. For example, you may choose to schedule classes for just two weeks of the month, as long as the schedule is confirmed before the month begins. Cancellations made on a week-to-week basis are paid classes as normal.

We will continue to provide credits for any class days we must cancel due to issues on our end. In cases where a teacher is unavailable for one of your scheduled classes and rescheduling within the week is not possible, a qualified substitute who is familiar with your student's progress will teach the class. Our program is designed to be cohesive, with all teachers following the same curriculum and keeping detailed records to ensure smooth transitions.

Additionally, we will be updating our pricing for the new school year. While we understand that price increases are rarely welcome, we remain committed to being an affordable option. This change reflects our continued investment in delivering high-quality classes with well-trained, dedicated teachers. The pricing can be found below, taking effect in August.

Scheduling

If you have yet to send your scheduling preferences and return date for the new school year, please send them at your earliest convenience! We will accommodate teacher preference where possible.

Click here for the school calendar. Days that are US holidays but not Honduran holidays, we will schedule you as normal unless otherwise requested.

Thank you,
The Puentes Team at the Spanish Institute of Honduras
