

Dear Kindergarten Families,

Your child's homework this week is to disguise this turkey! The poor turkey is in need of some color, feathers, and a disguise because he doesn't want to be eaten for Thanksgiving dinner. Using crafty and fun items (no food please) dress this turkey up so that it can't be recognized.

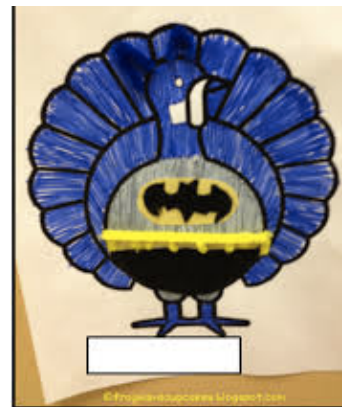

This project is based off of the book "Turkey Trouble" by Wendi Silvano. Just in case you are not familiar with the story, here is a link to hear it being read online:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SqMYTCBZTe4>

Please be creative and help your child disguise their turkey. Completed turkeys and the attached writing prompt are due back by

-----.

Students will be sharing their turkeys with their classmates. Thank you for your support!

Name _____ Date _____

My turkey is disguised as a _____

