HAVERFORD — Spring flowers abound in Haverford

Township storefronts this season as Discover Haverford's May Flower Project is underway.

The project matches township businesses with local artists who paint colorful floral displays on the outside of storefront windows. Painting began last weekend and continues through the weekend of May 4-5. Over 20 businesses are participating.

This is the third year for the popular May Flower Project that aims to enhance Haverford Township's business districts.

"It is wonderful to see the transformation once the windows have been painted," notes Discover Haverford Executive Director Jeanne Angell. "Thanks to sponsors Plant Roots and Visit Delco for helping to make this program possible and brightening up our town."

Plant Roots owner, Gina Ranieri, coordinates the project for Discover Haverford and she loves the attention the May Flower Project brings to local businesses.

"I think the biggest benefit is that it draws those people who are passing through our township to the businesses here because all of a sudden they notice a shop they never did before."

Some shops that were painted last weekend include Katz Pharmacy, Infinity Fitness, Hendren House, Charles B. Gans Plumbing & Heating and the Haverford YMCA.

Haverford Middle School art teacher Janiene Kwoczak and a dozen of her Art Club students painted eight large window panes at the YMCA. She said they were excited about the opportunity and "the students had a blast!"

Artist Jackie Greco has been a volunteer painter in previous years, and says she looks forward to participating each year. Painting outside of Sweets on Darby, she said, "My neighbor drives through Havertown daily and she says it makes her day to see the painted windows!"

A dozen more Haverford Township businesses will have their windows painted over the course of next weekend. Photos of all the windows will be posted, once the project is complete, at <http://www.discoverhaverford.org>.

Discover Haverford, a 501c3 nonprofit founded in 2010, is a partnership between Haverford Township, business and property owners and township residents.

It fosters economic growth in Haverford Township by supporting local businesses, promoting Haverford Township as a destination, hosting events such as the Havertown Holiday Festival, the Dining Club, Haverfood Festival, and Shop Small Saturday, and revitalizing the township's business districts and public spaces through the installation of planters, gardens, fountains, benches, and signage.
