Strategic Clarity. Practical Outcomes.

About Hayley Edwards FGIA GAICD, MBA (Energy & Minerals Management)

Hayley Edwards synthesises Board-Level leadership, frontline commercial expertise and international engagement to advise Boards and Senior Executives on Governance, Risk and Enterprise Transformation. Her professional practice prioritises evidence-based Clarity, Accountability and measurable Business Outcomes for organisations operating within complex Regulatory and cross-border environments.

Her career spans the Defence, Emergency Health Care, Government and Private sectors, where she has established a documented record of forging trusted relationships across industry and international partners to facilitate trade and durable investment. Hayley has served in various capacities as a Chairperson and Director, often bridging the gap between high-level diplomatic engagement and practical operational Governance.

Academically grounded with an MBA in Energy and Minerals Management and postgraduate qualifications in Politics and Public Policy, Hayley pairs sector-specific knowledge with direct commercial experience. She has successfully founded, managed and exited brick-and-mortar businesses, navigated intricate Compliance settings and led Performance Management initiatives across both Commercial and Not-For-Profit contexts. This Ground-Truth experience ensures that her Advisory approach favours pragmatic, deliverable interventions over abstract Strategic theory.
