

Kollab Youth Privacy Policy

Effective Date: October 2025

Introduction

Kollab Youth (“we,” “our,” or “us”) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting the personal information of our youth participants, parents, mentors, donors, and partners. This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, and protect the information you share with us through our website (www.kollabyouth.org), applications, and communications.

Information We Collect

We collect contact details, application data, and limited analytics information to manage program participation, communications, and reporting. We do not sell or rent personal data to any third party.

How We Use Information

Information is used to administer youth programs, communicate with families and partners, process applications or donations, and comply with reporting requirements.

Data Protection

We use administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to protect your information from unauthorized access or misuse. Only authorized staff and partners may access it.

Sharing Information

We share limited data only with trusted partners or service providers essential for program delivery or compliance. We never share data for marketing purposes.

Youth and Parent Consent

We require parental consent before collecting or using information from minors. Parents may review or request deletion of their child’s data by contacting us.

Your Rights

California residents may request access to, correction of, or deletion of personal information by contacting privacy@kollabyouth.org.
