ABOUT THE WRITER

Jamorra Dubose Morris, with over five years of experience as an Off-Broadway director and playwright, has showcased her original works with various established theaters throughout New York City. Getting her start as a visual artist and fashion designer at the High School of Fashion Industries in New York City, she grew an even greater passion for advertising, storytelling, and mixed media, leading her towards Performance Art.

In 2016, she showcased her first play, and since then, has self-produced a three-part series of plays entitled Visions; High End Reality, Visions: The Mental War, and Visions: Ego, Fear and Evil, at the Award Winning Off-Broadway Davenport Theater and Abron's Arts Center.

The Killer Bois is a revival workshop production which debuted at Wow Cafe Theatre in 2019. Now in 2023, Dubose Morris' cast has united to electrify the stage again, here at the Soho Playhouse, following with dates at The Tank Theatre, and the New York Theater Festival fall 2023 season.
