What can I use #HC for?

As Humblecoin was intended for use on our podcast, think of it as if you call into a radio show for a contest and win some cash; well with #HC you would have the choice to cash it out and take the cash, hold as an investment, or spend in our merch stores.

Store-- The Dev team is launching some BSSHOW Merch stores where you can purchase items with fiat, or with #HC of course. The best part is if you use #HC to pay you will receive a discount from the Fiat currency price!!

...Stay Tuned...

As Humblecoin is a growing project with a motivated team behind it, this is only the beginning of #HC's use case. As we grow adaptation will come!

What do you as an investor have to gain??

Investing in Humblecoin could be considered a great start to an end of Humble beginnings. Humblecoin was created with the vision to be used for all things BSSHOW; this in turn meaning: As the show grows, so will the coin.

Now to get down to the core of the growth for Humblecoin we must step aside to look at the creators of the BSSHOW, Blue Lime Media.

Blue Lime Media is a media company that is based out of Sarasota FL. The company created the BSSHOW, is in the process of making movies, and video games. They also host local live events like festivals. They have already created NFTs of characters from the upcoming game, along with several great, all original meme NFTs.

So as you can see Humblecoin has no shortage of project capability. To find out what's in store you will have to join the community to keep an eye on all things happening!

As adopters of Humblecoin you may want to know more about the project behind the Crypto.

A BSSHOW Quickie

(A word from the Devs)

We are Blue Lime Media creators of the Bsshow, 941s #1 Podcast as heard on Fox Sports and IHeartRadio, along with the top 250 in iTunes podcasts. The Bean & Superbad show or BSshow is based locally in Sarasota, Florida and for the past ten years we have been entertaining through bits stunts, and parodies. However recently we have been branching out into more live events and conventions obtaining more and more Bsshow merchandise from t-shirts to stickers and yes even toys and are seeking to expand our brand into the world of cryptocurrency!
