Peeps Playdough

Supplies Needed:

Approx. 6 Peeps per batch, Corn Starch, Air-Tight Container

Directions:

The first step is to microwave your peeps. You want them to soften and get stretchy, but you don't want them to burn. Cook your Peeps in about 30-second intervals until they are puffy, soft, and easy to stir with a fork.

Add cornstarch. We used about a tablespoon per 3-4 Peeps. If your dough is too sticky, add more starch.

If it is too stiff, add another melted Peep.

Work the dough in your hands until it is soft, smooth, and no longer sticky.

Once the dough is no longer sticky, kids can play with it just like regular dough. The Peeps playdough does tend to get stickier over time, so keep some cornstarch on hand to prevent it from getting too messy.
