

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Welcome to National Association of Women's Prison Reform, LLC! Thank you for using our services. We are a world-class company providing diverse of services for the betterment of the state. Therefore, additional terms may apply to such services which become part of your agreement when you use those services under us.

You are thereby advice to read, understand and accept these terms carefully before you agree to use our services. These terms are subject to change or modification at any time without any prior notice. When such changes occur, the National Association of Women's Prison Reform will post such change on our company's home page with the date the change was effected. You therefore need to review these terms from time to time to be sure if any change(s) is made and if you no longer agree with those terms, you are advised to discontinue the use of this company.

GENERAL AGREEMENT

- You agree that all the terms stated by the National Association of Women's Prison Reform and companies within/under us will be strictly adhered to
- You agree that you will not misuse our service(s) by deviating from our instructions, rules and regulations laid down
- You agree that we may cease to provide you with our service(s) if you do not comply with our terms and policies
- You agree that your personal information and that of your company will be well protected unless required by law
- You agree to provide us accurate information as we may require

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

All information included in this site and those that will be belongs to the National Association of Women's Prison Reform LLC and affiliate companies and is prevented from unauthorized distribution and copying by intellectual property laws. We allow a non-transferable access and unmodified use of the information on our site. You may use any information on this site as permitted by the company and its affiliates without interrupting the functioning of these companies.

PRIVACY POLICY

This explains how National Association of Women's Prison Reform will collect, use and protect your personal information when you use our service(s). You agree that you have read, understand and accepted these notices as stated in our privacy policy page.

COMPANY USES OF OUR SERVICES

If you are contracting us to aid you with our service(s), such company agrees with these terms. Therefore, National Association of Women's Prison Reform and its affiliates will not be held responsible for acts, actions, claims or violation of terms leading to liability, damage or loss that may arise from the use of our service(s).

MODIFICATION OF TERMS

The National Association of Women's Prison Reform reserves the right to change, add, edit or delete these terms at any time without your prior notice. All these are done to improve our services and enhance a better way of serving you. When such modification occurs, it will be posted on the site page with the date effected. You are hereby advised to always check these changes and agree with them for continuous use of this service(s).

TERMINATION OF SERVICE

You can decide to discontinue with the use of our service(s) at any time, though it will be a loss to letting you go. The National Association of Women's Prison Reform may stop providing our service(s) to you if we notice there is a breach in our terms of service.

NO WARRANTIES

We exclude all warranties, to the extent permitted by law. Asides what is stated in our terms, the National Association of Women's Prison Reform or its affiliate companies do not make any promise concerning our service(s). We therefore do not warrant the availability, reliability, accuracy or the ability of our service(s) to meet your needs. There is no warranty pertaining third party content(s) and out content(s) within the company.

LIMITED LIABILITY

The National Association of Women's Prison Reform and its affiliate companies will not be liable for whether direct or indirect loss encountered with the use of the service(s), inability to use this site or its contents nor damages caused by your negligence or violation in our terms of service. You use this service at your sole risk as the National Association of Women's Prison Reform does not guarantee the accuracy, reliability and quality of this service.

SERVICE AVAILABILITY

You agree that at any time, the site may be inaccessible or down for reasons such as periodic maintenance procedures or upgrades, service malfunctions as well as reasons beyond our control.

The National Association of Women's Prison Reform will make efforts to diminish any disruption, inoperability or inaccessibility of our service and will not be liable for any costs or damages sustained by any of our customers that may occur due to downtime.

LINK TO OTHER SITES

The National Association of Women's Prison Reform may recommend certain links on our site in order to provide you with the required service(s). When you click on such links you are automatically directed to such site. You agree to stick to the terms of services applicable to those site(s) as we are therefore not responsible for their services or contents, and you do that at your own risk. You are hereby advised to understand the privacy policy of such sites before clicking on them.

CONTACT INFORMATION

For inquiries, complaints, requests about our services, contact:

National Association of Women's Prison Reform, LLC

Atlanta GA

Jennifer Rogers

JennRogers@nawpr.org