

Nadavi Hamel - Letter of Recommendation

I am pleased to recommend Nadavi Hamel as a college soccer prospect. He is a versatile left back who brings a strong defensive presence combined with the ability to contribute effectively in attack. His left foot is a real asset, allowing him to deliver quality service and progress play from wide areas.

Nadavi plays with a competitive, “warrior” mentality—he is intense, committed, and fearless in duels, yet he also shows impressive composure in key moments.

Defensively, he is reliable and engaged, and offensively he has the ability to support and impact the game in advanced positions.

Beyond his on-field qualities, Nadavi is highly coachable, attentive to feedback, and consistently strives to improve. He is a positive presence within the group with a strong personality and good character, making him an asset to any program both on and off the field.

I would recommend him to be considered for programs he is interested in. I am happy to provide any further feedback or answer questions if needed.
