HOST CITY & ACCOMMODATION

This year, the International Pole Congress will be held in Mexico City, one of the largest and most populated cities in the world, which combines the history and tradition of Mexico with the vanguard of today's world, popular for its gastronomy, historical monuments, museums and nightlife.

For this edition there will not be a host hotel for the activities of the event, each congress participant and/or competitor will be responsible for booking their own stay within the city, however, we will issue some recommendations through our official social networks of hotels, it is important to let you know that no accommodation is close to all the points where the congress events will take place, so you should consider whether you prefer to stay, near the theater where the competitions will be held, the studio where the workshops will take place, or in the most popular tourist areas.
