

What's Happening

In B.C. Government This Week?

The Province just announced $35M in new funding through the CleanBC Industry Fund to help industrial operators electrify, adopt cleaner tech, and cut emissions — while protecting and creating good jobs.

Since 2019, The Fund Has:

- Backed 173 projects
- Leveraged $2 from industry for every $1 from government
- Targeted emissions cuts equal to removing 20% of all heavy-duty vehicles in B.C. from the road

Applications for 2025 funding are now open - competitive process, big impact.
