Family Sermon Discussion Questions—Luke 10:25–37 (AM Service)

1. Why is the question posed by the lawyer address a matter of profound importance?
2. Why did Jesus answer his question with a question?
3. Why did Jesus affirm his answer by saying, “This do, and thou shalt live”?
- 4.* What does verse 29 teach us about our fallen human nature?
5. What was Jesus’s intent in telling this parable?
6. Why was this parable so confrontational to the lawyer who asked the question?
- 7.* In answering Jesus’s question in verse 37, why did the lawyer avoid using the word “Samaritan”?
8. How did Jesus expose the lawyer as a sinner who needed a Savior?

Question for Self-reflection

Why do we need to understand experientially that even our “righteousnesses” are in God’s sight as filthy rags Isa. 64:6)?

Family Sermon Discussion Questions—Belg. Conf., Art. 14 (PM Service)

- 1*. How was God's creation of man completely different from everything else He created?
2. What connection is there between Adam being God's son and God's eternal and only-begotten Son?
3. How did God equip man to serve Him, and thus find his life in the God who created him?
4. Why did Satan use Eve to get to Adam?
- 5*. How was Adam & Eve's eating of the forbidden truth a transgression of the entire law (= love God & your neighbor)?
6. Why was death the fitting punishment for Adam's breach of his covenant relationship with God?
7. Why does spiritual death produce the stench of radical depravity?
8. What does the Belgic Confession mean when it says that man has "only retained a few remains" of God's excellent gifts?

Question for Self-reflection

What is meant by the statement that radical sinners need a radical Savior?

Feb 1 Young adult book study after the evening service

Humility is lowliness of mind, the opposite of pride and arrogance. It belongs to the essence of experimental religion. It is the peculiar grace of Christians, the parent and nurse of other graces, that preserves in us the light of faith and the heat of love; that procures modesty in prosperity and patience in adversity; that is the root of gratitude and obedience, and is so lovely in God's eyes, that 'He giveth grace to the humble.' True humility is an inward grace based on a view of our own guilt, weakness, ignorance, vileness, and poverty, as compared with the infinite excellence and glory of God. It is one of the most lovely of all the traits of a child of God...Its aim is not to be thought humble, but to be humble.

~ William Plumer

If we then consider ourselves as the followers of the meek and lowly and crucified Jesus, we shall walk humbly before God and man all the days of our life on earth no God. Confess your nothingness and ill dessert before him. Know God--Distrust yourself-- Rely only on Christ-- Renounce all glory except for Him. Yield yourself heartily to His will and service. Humility is the most essential and distinguishing trait in all true piety! Earnestly seek then and diligently and prayerfully cherish a humble spirit -- and God shall walk with you here below and soon 'shall present you before His glorious presence without fault and with great joy'

~ Jonathan Edwards
