

SUMMARY NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

Our Responsibilities: We are required by law to protect the privacy of your health information, provide this notice about our privacy practices, and follow the privacy practices that are described in this notice. You can also request a copy of our notice at any time. For more information about our privacy policies, please contact our Compliance Officer.

How We May Use and Disclose Your Health Information: We use health information about you for treatment, to get paid for treatment, for administrative purposes, and to evaluate the quality of care that you receive. Information may be shared by paper, mail, electronic mail, fax, or other methods. We may use or disclose your health information without your authorization for several reasons, including legally required disclosures and notices to Public Health agencies. Beyond those situations, we will ask for your written authorization before using or disclosing your health information.

Your Rights: In most cases, you have the right to look at or get a copy of your health information. You also have the right to request a list of certain types of disclosures of your information that we have made. If you believe that your health information is incorrect or information is missing, you have the right to request that we correct the existing information or add the missing information. You also have the right to request restrictions or limitations on how we use or disclose your medical information and the right to request confidential or alternative communications.

Privacy Complaints: If you are concerned that we have violated your privacy rights, our privacy policies, or if you disagree with a decision we made about access to your health information, you may contact our Compliance Officer. You may also send a written complaint to the US Department of Health and Human Services.

Summary of Privacy Practices: This document represents a summary of Park Avenue Orthotics, Inc. Privacy Practices. The complete Notice of Privacy Practices can be provided upon request.
