

Rehoming your ducks to Sally's Duck rescue. 🦆

We understand and appreciate that having to rehome your ducks is a difficult time and as part of your family you may find this an upsetting process. We are here to support you through this and will answer any questions you may have.

Bringing your ducks in

When you come to the rescue with your ducks please make sure you transport them in something suitable such as a dog crate with an old towel. If not, a cardboard box can work as long as it has plenty of air holes.

Health and age

Its important for us to know about any health issues your ducks have or have had in the past as well as their age. This allows us to best care for them while they are with us.

Donation

We do ask you to make a donation, as this helps with the care of your duck / s and to continue to keep helping and homing ducks. Donations must be made in advance or on the day.

Frequently asked questions

What will happen to your ducks once they are here?

a - Able bodied ducks - We will find a new forever home but they will have a home with us for as long as it takes to find the perfect place. At times we may integrate them into one of our flocks, if you are unsure what will happen please ask and we will let you know.

b - Disabled and elderly - We will integrate them into one of our disabled flocks depending on their needs

Will I hear about how my ducks are doing?

If you would like an update please whatsapp, text or email.

Can i rehome my ducks from you if you still have them and my circumstances change?

If your ducks are still with us and available for rehoming we will ask you to go through the same process as all our rehomers - please see our website for further information
