June Program

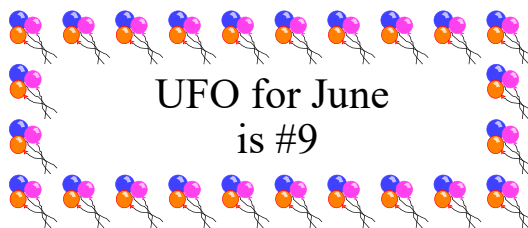

Due to the uncertainty of when we would be able to meet again, we will not have a scheduled program for June.

June Workshop

Cancelled

Round Robin:

As soon as we meet again, please bring your Round Robin to the meeting and give to Kaye before the meeting starts. She will then give you the next round."

OK. Here goes: UFO: Continue to work on your unfinished projects. Once completed, take a photo of yourself and your project and send to Emily Jacobs, our webmaster at emmaj1391@yahoo.com. Photos will be posted on the website slideshow for everyone to see your finished UFO. BOM: The monthly kits for BOM will be mailed to all participants. Instructions will be sent to members as an email attachment. Photos will be posted on the website of the each block. Monthly payments will be collected once the guild meets again.

Missing:

The Quilt Show Committee is looking for the aprons and gloves that the volunteers wear to work the show. Please contact Konnie Glaze if you have these items, or know where they are. We have been unable to find them in the storage room.

President's Note

I have rewritten this note 5 times now due to trying to decide whether to have our June activities. Please be tolerant on this issue. It is a much more involved decision than mine alone. At this time the church has been reopened. I could tell you what their guidelines are today but these will change by June 4 and again by June 11, which is our general meeting date. The church will be open June 4 if anyone wishes to sit and sew or stop by to drop off Community Service and Fundraising items. Please be considerate and respectful of social distancing recommendations if you join us. There will be a brief board meeting via ZOOM June 4 for the board to formally put in motion year-end procedures. I will send out a mass email after the board meeting with updates.

As with the past 3 months' workshops we are sorry to also be missing Carol Miller's Punch Needle class, which was scheduled for June 25.

Linda Weiss held a Quilt Show Committee meeting at the FWB Fairgrounds May 12 so that the committee members could form layouts for their specific areas. The Fairgrounds building is a great venue for this endeavor!

Please continue to share your finished projects with all by submitting pictures to not only Jayne for Needlenotes but also to Emily for our website.

Both Jayne Pendergast and Emily Jacobs are listed in the directory with their respective contact information.*

Ours is a charity driven guild and I want to thank all who are continuing to work on charity quilts, Christmas stockings and fundraising items. Feel free to call, text or email me any time with thoughts for improvement or complaints.

For Sale

Seeking a new owner for a long unused, rectangular, 25"x43", quilt frame. Sets up like an embroidery hoop only with card table like legs. California original design. Gloria Thomas 862 4322.

FYI

Recently I tried to use a spool of 100% cotton thread that had been in my sewing room cabinet for 4 or 5 years. It was a well known brand bought at a quilt shop. When I went to test it by tugging on it, it broke. Unwound it and tested it several times with same poor results. Then I tried 4 other spools of the same brand with the same results. So to all my quilting friends test your thread before using it.

FOR SALE

I have three quilting ruler racks that I would like to sale. They are in perfect condition--I've redone my sewing room and mine are all on a pegboard now. I would like $10 each for the flat racks and $30 for the tall one.
