STUDIOTOWN ANNOUNCES RELEASE OF “ROOK”

Colorado-Based Feature Film Available for Pre-Order

Dateline: Colorado Springs, CO July 29, 2020 — Colorado Springs-based production company, Studiotown, is pleased to announce the upcoming release of the feature film Rook. The film is being distributed by Gravitass Ventures on Apple iTunes and YouTube for streaming, and Amazon, Walmart and Turner Classic Movies for Blu-ray and DVD purchase. The official release date is August 11th but is available for pre-order today.

Rook is the tale of a failed gold heist that leaves two siblings and a few of their friends at the mercy of two backwoods brothers hell-bent on getting back what's theirs. Ranging from modern western to quirky indie, Rook takes you on a journey of thievery and self discovery within a small Colorado gold mining town.

Shot entirely on location in the cities of Cripple Creek and Victor, Colorado, the 70 minute film blends genres with a wry sense of slapstick humor, drama, and tension, all within the guise of a gold heist caper. Staring Lake George, Colorado native Sarah Johanna Jewell (Emma in HBO'S Award-Winning Short-Film, "Monday"), Zack Rush, and a brilliant comedic performance by The Walking Dead's Lew Temple, the cast is rounded out by several very talented Colorado locals. Studiotown is committed to producing the highest caliber motion pictures and television content locally, in the Pikes Peak region of Colorado. Studiotown is a major proponent of growing the Colorado film industry and currently has new projects in development with the intent of hiring mostly local cast and crew.
