

Storage sheds, cabanas, gazebos, and other structures

Storage sheds, cabanas, gazebos are permitted in the backyard only. It is the homeowner's responsibility to adhere to all building setback lines, building codes, and permit requirements by the county and to ensure that such structure does not interfere with any easement and does not violate any provision of the law. Storage sheds, cabanas, gazebos shall not be visible from the street. Storage sheds, cabanas, gazebos shall not interfere with the exposure, view or reasonable privacy of adjoining or facing properties.

Other structures such as terraces, patios, low platforms or steps, decks, swimming pools may be erected/installed in the backyard. It is the homeowners' responsibility to adhere to all building setback lines, building codes, and permit requirements by the town and to ensure that such structure does not interfere with any easement and does not violate any provision of the law. Such a structure shall not be visible from the street.