

STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT!

Excellent Work YOURpath Students for meeting weekly study hours & grade expectations! You have shown yourselves to be sincerely committed to earning your high school credential and highly accountable for your success in the program and achieving a favorable outcome on your exam. A special acknowledgment to Ms. Rina who achieved the highest study hours this week! Additionally, Great work to everyone who submitted a projected test date for testing. This shows that you have established a goal with a plan of action in effect! Keep up the excellent work & Keep your eyes on the finishing line; there's an end date on every goal!

GEOMETRY: "ALL ABOUT ANGLES" VIDEO

Be sure to check out this week's video. We focus on Geometry, familiarizing ourselves with the various types of angles and their rotation in terms of counterclockwise versus clockwise. Here's an opportunity to learn how to solve basic geometry questions like: "Find the measure of x" and get comfortable with recognizing the various types of angles within a single problem. To access the video, click below!

VIDEO

Things to Remember!

- 1) This Sunday is our cohort meeting. You should make plans to be in attendance. The meeting starts at 9AM, Eastern Standard Time. You should email YOURpath if you have difficulty accessing the meeting.
- 2) This Sunday is also the beginning of a new week! It's a great time to start your study hours and before you know it, you will have exceeded study hours expectations!
- 3) Have a great study week & remember if you are not testing then you are not making it happen! Let's study with a purpose in mind!

Like

Web Version

Preferences

Forward

Unsubscribe

Powered by
GoDaddy Email Marketing®