To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to provide a reference for By Your Side Teaching Services, a valued educational partner of Dexter Middle School. Our professional relationship with By Your Side has spanned four years, during which time they have consistently demonstrated exceptional service, expertise, and dedication.

From the outset, By Your Side Teaching Services has provided exceptional professional development on several occasions for my entire staff. Teaching writing across content areas and developing understanding in areas specific to special education are two of several professional development sessions their team has led building-wide.

Also, By Your Side does a phenomenal job of supporting teachers in the classroom with embedded coaching and support sessions. This type of professional development is unsurpassed, as research has consistently shown new teachers leave the profession within three years if they don't have adequate support. By Your Side brings a wealth of instructional knowledge to the table, that not only supports classroom teachers, but assists building administrators in growing their team.

Moreover, By Your Side Teaching Services operates with the utmost integrity and professionalism. They have proven to be a reliable and trustworthy educational partner, always honoring their commitments and maintaining transparent communication. Their proactive, collaborative approach to developing quality professional development for my staff has been exceptional.

I have no hesitation in recommending By Your Side Teaching Services as an educational partner. Their dedication to excellence and the wealth of educational experience makes them an asset to any school or district fortunate enough to work with them.

Sincerely,

Christina Ferguson
