

Confidentiality Statement

Soul & Strategy Consulting is committed to maintaining the highest level of confidentiality for all clients, students, and partners.

- All personal and business information shared with us during coaching, consulting, tutoring, or writing projects is kept strictly confidential.
- We will not disclose any information to third parties without your explicit written consent, unless required by law.
- Any testimonials, case studies, or examples shared publicly will be anonymized unless you provide written permission to use your name or likeness.
- We will both sign a Confidentiality Agreement—either in person or via secure electronic signature—for your records and ours before beginning services.

Our commitment to confidentiality ensures that you can engage with us in a safe, respectful, and trustworthy environment.
