

FREE WRITING CONTEST

Get the recognition you deserve from editors looking to discover and develop new talent, and you could receive a publishing contract worth $1,500.

The Poetic Justice Writing Contest is under way, but there is still time for you to get published. Simply complete the on-line entry form with your best poetry not to exceed 5,000 words in total. Previously self-published/published works will be considered provided you still own the copyrights.

Winning poems will be published in our 2019 Poetic Justice Anthology. Exceptional writers will receive the chance to publish a collection of their individual works, including cover design, editing, formatting, marketing material (assistance), and their own private author's page to promote their books with a 30% royalty.

North Avenue Publishing is a creative writers' co-op dating back to 1984 when we formed our first Windy City Writers Club in Chicago, Illinois. Over the decades, we have sponsored countless writing contests in our quest to discover and develop new talent. With clubs spanning coast-to-coast, and a nationwide network of editors ready to help make your work shine, North Avenue Publishing is the "write" place for you and your writing dreams. All contests are free to enter, because that is just one way we are making publishing great again. Are you in?
