Silvia Mathis
EXECUTIVE PRODUCER

logline for her life

A beautiful woman excited about the goodness that life can bring embarks on a journey to discovering herself through her work, children, husband, and friends. It is a journey that starts at an early age as a young singer and dancer, and it then ebbs and flows towards the life of a busy writer, director, and eventually an Executive Producer. It's her spirit of kindness that propels her to greatness.

synopsis of her life . . .

Silvia, the founder and CEO of Punkin Studios, has been instrumental in developing, selling, and producing a diverse range of films, shorts, documentaries, and series for over 20 years. Collaborating with emerging filmmakers she has mentored and coached, Silvia has helped shape the industry.

Recent productions include A Nashville Legacy, directed by Roger M. Bobb, Spring Breakthrough, directed by Mykelti Williamson – both for Hallmark Mahogany – as well as upcoming films Ballethnic for Hallmark Mahogany and Bewildered in partnership with the award-winning production team at The Wolper Org/WB for Hallmark Hall of Fame.

With an impressive three decades in the business, Silvia is renowned for her unwavering commitment to quality, compassionate demeanor, adaptable creativity, practical methodology, and knack for bringing people together, ultimately enhancing production value. Her astute decision-making abilities have allowed her to implement changes that positively impact teams across all production phases. This has garnered her the respect of esteemed colleagues like Mark Wolper (CEO of The Wolper Org.), actor/director Malik Yoba, Julius Tennon, and Viola Davis. (See Quotes Here)

Punkin Studios was established with one goal: to conceive, source, and develop innovative multimedia content that nurtures kindness and ignites the imagination. It is a place where creative dreams become a reality!

In 2020, Silvia signed a lucrative first-look deal with TAPAS MEDIA (recently acquired by Korean entertainment giant Kakao for $510 million). She later entered into an overall representation and development agreement with Sandstone Artists in May 2023.

Prior executive roles held by Silvia include Head of Development at One Street Media, where she helmed publishing projects for notable authors, including Oscar-winner Viola Davis; Senior VP of Content Acquisitions for Trelmage; Senior VP of Original Programming for XOD, a black-owned streaming platform; and CEO of SILCO Productions, partnering with MGM exec Jeff Coleman.

Currently serving on the advisory board of The Next Unicorn, Silvia facilitates the connection between everyday consumers-turned-investors and high-growth startups, bridging the gap between Wall Street and Main Street.

Silvia consistently shines across various industry sectors. As a distinguished songwriter, she received a Gold Record for her Co-Writing Quiet Time by Regina Belle and Barry White (Passion: CAPITOL Records). As a versatile singer-songwriter and producer, Silvia has collaborated with Grammy Award-winning artists Bobby Caldwell, Donnie McClurkin, Fred Hammond, Roberta Flack, Ann Nesby, Carvin Haggins, and American Idol's Randy Jackson. In addition, she co-produced the anniversary event celebrating Diana Ross' legendary Central Park.

... her inspiration

When asked about her character and purpose, Silvia simply states, "Kindness is who I am." Her spiritual life is an integral part of her being, and she devotes much of her time, when not in production, to reading books on spirituality and personal growth.

For the past 20 years, Silvia has been committed to a vegan lifestyle. Her mornings include waking at 4 am, an early H.I.T. workout, yoga, meditation, and a brain-stimulating, ice-cold shower.

Silvia passionately believes in the power of kindness and strives to embody and spread it in every aspect of her life. She is dedicated to contributing to philanthropic and charitable organizations and has previously worked with the American Heart Association, Stand Up 2 Cancer, and Make A Difference Day. Silvia is partnering with Kindness.org and is excited to explore new opportunities to make a positive impact.

Silvia devotes herself to sharing positivity and enlightenment through the power of kindness. She firmly believes in the Just Cause principle, as presented by author Simon Sinek in his book "Find Your Why." Her primary objective is to inspire, educate, and enable others, and she is resolute in her dedication to achieving it.
