

Hello,

I'm Sonia,
the founder of SG Creations.

ABOUT ME

Crafting has been a lifelong passion that I share with my mom, creating memories and masterpieces together from my earliest years. In fact, SG Creations is not just about my personal journey but a beautiful collaboration between generations.

My professional journey includes a background in marketing coordination, social media, and graphic design, coupled with certification as a Pattern Designer. In 2015, I took my first steps into the crafting world with my trusty worthy Cricut machine.

In 2018, while on a path of therapy and treatments due to my lifelong battle with Endometriosis, I began crafting for friends and family. These heartfelt creations brought comfort and inspiration to my life. Crafting not only became a therapeutic escape but also brought back quality time with my mom. It's a cherished way for us to bond and create something beautiful together.

After recovering from surgery, I made the bold choice to leave a 20+ year career and give life to SG Creations.

At SG Creations, our mission is simple yet profound: we treat each client as a unique individual, listening to their vision and ideas. Using my graphic design expertise and boundless creativity, we collaborate to turn a simple idea into a wonderful creation.

Join me on this exciting journey, and let's make your ideas a reality. Together, we'll craft not just beautiful pieces but lasting memories.
