

Aaron's Battle Sponsor Form

TARGET £300,000

Why we need to raise this money for Aaron?

Aaron is currently doing relatively well with the treatment available to him on the NHS but this is not a long term solution. The cancer is aggressive and has a very high return rate, as we have already seen chemo and radiotherapy won't stop this. We believe his only chance at long term survival is a treatment called immunotherapy. Unfortunately this treatment is very costly and must be obtained privately. This type of treatment is becoming commonplace in other countries and has proven to be very promising for Aaron's type of cancer, but the rarity of rhabdomyosarcoma means that it likely won't be available on the NHS for some years. We hope Aaron can find success with this treatment, paving the way for others to be able to obtain it in the UK. Although the doctors have told Aaron his cancer is terminal, we will never give up hope and strongly believe if he can get this treatment it will give him many more years with the people he loves. It is for this reason we must ask for help in this stressful time. Any contribution made will be spent on treatment that has been chosen as a result of many weeks of research and professional advice. We believe this will be critical in saving Aaron's life.
