

July Newsletter

Monthly Members' Meetings

As I mentioned in last month's newsletter, we're taking a short break from our monthly meetings so you can enjoy the beach and the summer months. We'll start again in September and will announce our speaker in a future newsletter.

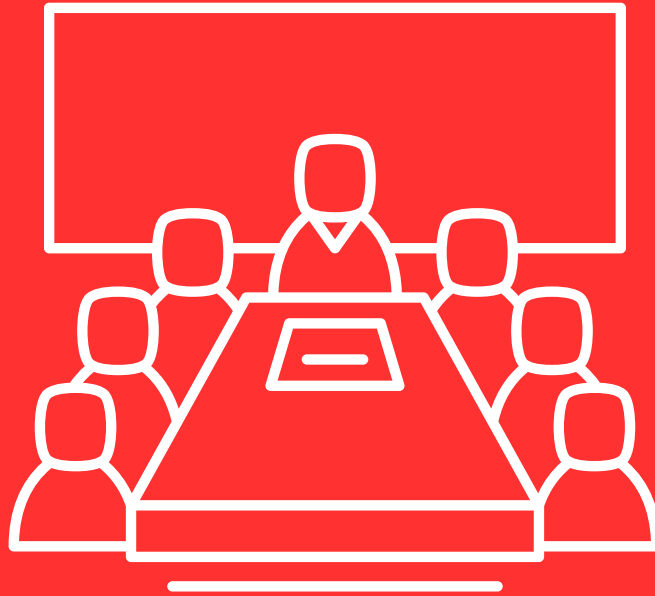

Fall Art Shows

Both the Seacoast Artists Guild and the Waccamaw Arts & Crafts Guild will hold their Fall Shows at the Seacoast Artists Gallery in October. The Prospectus and entry form for the SAG show is now online at the Guild's web page.

With the passing of Jeff Sturm, we have a tremendous void in having art classes at the Gallery. The Guild is soliticing any members, who have the talent and desire to teach either some classes or do some workshops, to reach out to me, so we might set something up. We are shooting for things to begin at summer's end. Classes and workshops are held in the backroom of the Gallery and the Gallery charges a minimal daily fee for room rental, if the teacher charges students. Otherwise, classes or workshops conducted at no charge to students and attendess are not charged.

Nick Mariano, Guild President

Following the annual Members' Meeting and the Board of Director's May Meeting, the following officers have been confirmed for another year.

Nick Mariano - President
John Cello - Vice-President
Woody Bower - Treasurer
Lesta Sue Hardee - Secretary

Members continue to contact me and advise they have received text messages or e-mails, saying someone is busy and could you go out and buy some gift cards.

WE NOT SEND OUT

any such messages to anyone. That's what phones are made for. If you receive any such text or message, please forward it to me and then trash it. Nothing further is required on this garbage. Enough said.

July 4th - Independence Day

One of our Guild Members, Becky Steele, is offering an online class for anyone interested please contact her directly. Details follow:

Getting Your Digital On!

Have you been thinking about getting online and want to know more about it? Maybe you have interest in sharing your art online? Or, maybe you're thinking about building your own website? Whether you are a newcomer or an experienced online digital user, this workshop will be helpful to you.

We'll have:

- Three live Zoom Workshops over the summer!

June 13th, July 11th, and August 8th from 9:30am to 11:30am.

- All workshops will be recorded and can be listened to/repeated at any time.

- A private Facebook page will be set up for the use of all throughout the summer to engage with each other and for further instruction, questions, resources, and discussion with the instructor.

Topics Covered:

June 13th - Digital Media Overview – An overview of various avenues of online media (zoom, social media, personal websites, and 3rd party sales platforms, along with a discussion on the safety concerns with an online presence.

July 11th - Social Media – We'll specifically be looking at Facebook and Instagram. We'll also touch on Pinterest, YouTube, and LinkedIn.

August 8th – Personal Website – How to set up and create your own personal website utilizing the GoDaddy platform.

GoDaddy

has a free website option. You can choose to upgrade to a paid plan with more options if you wish. Each online class is 2 hours and will be held on Zoom. I'll show you how to work with Zoom at the beginning of each class.

The Live Zoom Workshops and the Ongoing/Online Classroom

Package is $45 for MEMBERS; $60 for NON-MEMBERS.

Each class will be recorded. The link for each recording will be emailed to the registrants and uploaded to our private Facebook classroom page. If you miss a class or want to review it again, you can listen to the recording anytime at your convenience.

There's no preparation for this class other than you will need to have an active Facebook profile account to be able to participate in the online classroom. You can sign up and create a basic profile account with minimal information and no photos if you prefer. This is not a requirement for the workshops! If you have concerns and/or questions about this, let me know.

Once you are registered for the class, you'll receive an invitation link to our private FB classroom page and instructions on how to access Zoom. Please note the classroom will not be open until June 10th

You can access the classroom and Zoom with your phone,
pad,
or computer.
I'm looking forward to seeing you online!
