

Residence Buildings and Suite Layout

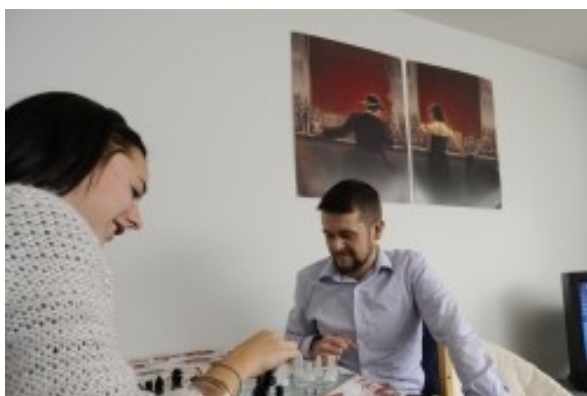

An example of a residence suite layout. Each suite is fully self contained.

Kitchen

The kitchen in each unit has an electric stove and oven, a full-size refrigerator and lots of cupboard space. Students are responsible for their own cooking utensils, small wares and dishes.

Common Area

A large common area in each suite contains a dining table with four chairs, a small sofa, and a coffee table.

Bedroom

- Each student has a separate bedroom furnished with a captain's bed (with three drawers), desk, desk-chair, and one closet rod.
- The Neyoh Residence has Extra Long Single beds (39.5 inches wide by 79.5 inches long by 7 inches deep), while the Keyoh Residence has regular twin size beds (39.5 inches wide by 75.5 inches long by 7 inches deep).

Each room also has a telephone jack that is connected to the Residence phone system for local calling.

Students are required to bring bedding and pillows.

Both wired and wireless Internet connections are available for those students with their own compatible computer equipment.

Students are responsible for their own cable and will need to contact a service provider themselves.

Residence amenities:

Study Lounges - each building has several study lounges available for residents' use.

Common Lounges - there is one large Common Lounge located within each Residence building. Each lounge is equipped with a microwave, sink, couches, tables and chairs. The Neyoh Residence also has a ping pong table while the Keyoh Residence has a pool table.

Laundry Facilities - coin operated washers and dryers are located on each floor. They take payment of loonies and quarters and it is best to use liquid detergent.

Parking - assigned stalls with plug-in's for the winter months are available in a fenced lot.
