INTRODUCTION

$FJCC was created in response of the failure of social programs like Welfare to address the root causes that lead to social inequality and injustice. Our goal is to use $FJCC to address the root causes and help individuals take control over their lives.

We aim to level the playing field for those that need a little help to get out of the circumstances they have found themselves in.

With the $FJCC ecosystem we aim to build real world solutions that are not dependent on politics and government, which has had a history of making the problems worse. Through our community we will build a network of services and distribution of essential goods to people all around the world where they will exchange $FJCC for such goods and services. People often think that these problems are too big to have any impact at all or “it’s just how the world works”.

With a community made up of like-minded individuals, together we can make the change that is needed and no longer be forced to wait for action by institutions that are not incentivized to do anything.

The decision to call the Token “Jesus Christ Coin” was not based on any religious affiliation or agenda. It is about the history and the teachings of Jesus Christ that exemplify timeless principals of compassion, equality, and service during his time on earth.

$FJCC will offer utility, full accountability and transparency to its holders.

VISION AND MISSION

The vision of $FJCC is to create a world where everyone, regardless of their background or circumstances, has the opportunity to thrive and live with dignity. We are dedicated to building a marketplace of goods and services that will can only be accessed using $FJCC.

Our mission is to empower individuals in need by providing them with the necessary resources and support to overcome obstacles and build better lives for themselves and their communities.

We know that with a unified community we will be successful in in advancing the marketplace and growing the demand for $FJCC around the world.

VISION OF FJCC MARKETPLACE

The goal of $FJCC marketplace is to provide a marketplace of goods and services that will be provided to those that need help advancing their life towards fulfillment. All while being secure and decentralized.

Services may include mental health, individual empowerment, job training, job placement, goal planning and execution roadmap, essential needs distribution, and ongoing support from $FJCC community.

Essential needs may include temporary housing, food, clothing, everyday household essentials, and transportation.

We will be partnering with places of worship and agnostic community leaders in order to enroll individuals into $FJCC programs and to outsource the vetting process.

We will partner with businesses to create training programs that will cater specifically to their businesses.

Any income streams created will be converted into $FJCC and returned to all $FJCC holders proportionately based on the % of $FJCC is owned.

FOUNDER AND TEAM

The Founder

Louis is our fearless leader and founder. He has an extensive background in business, finance, crypto, and community service. He started as a stockbroker early in his career and went on to build a successful staffing and recruiting company. His whole career has been built on building relationships and getting what is needed done. Here is a statement from him...

“I have done many things in my life that have given me purpose, but nothing comes close to the mission of $FJCC. There has never been more drive and excitement for a project I have taken on. I promise to sacrifice all the time that is needed to bring value to all those that believe in our mission and join the $FJCC community.”

The Team

Our team consists of highly talented, intensely driven individuals with extensive experience in building successful businesses and are extremely connected to the Crypto space. The entire team is in line with the mission but also care just as much about increasing value to $FJCC holders. Collectively we are unstoppable and are willing to work around the clock to achieve what we set out to achieve. We will continue to bring on members to our team that can increase the size of our community.

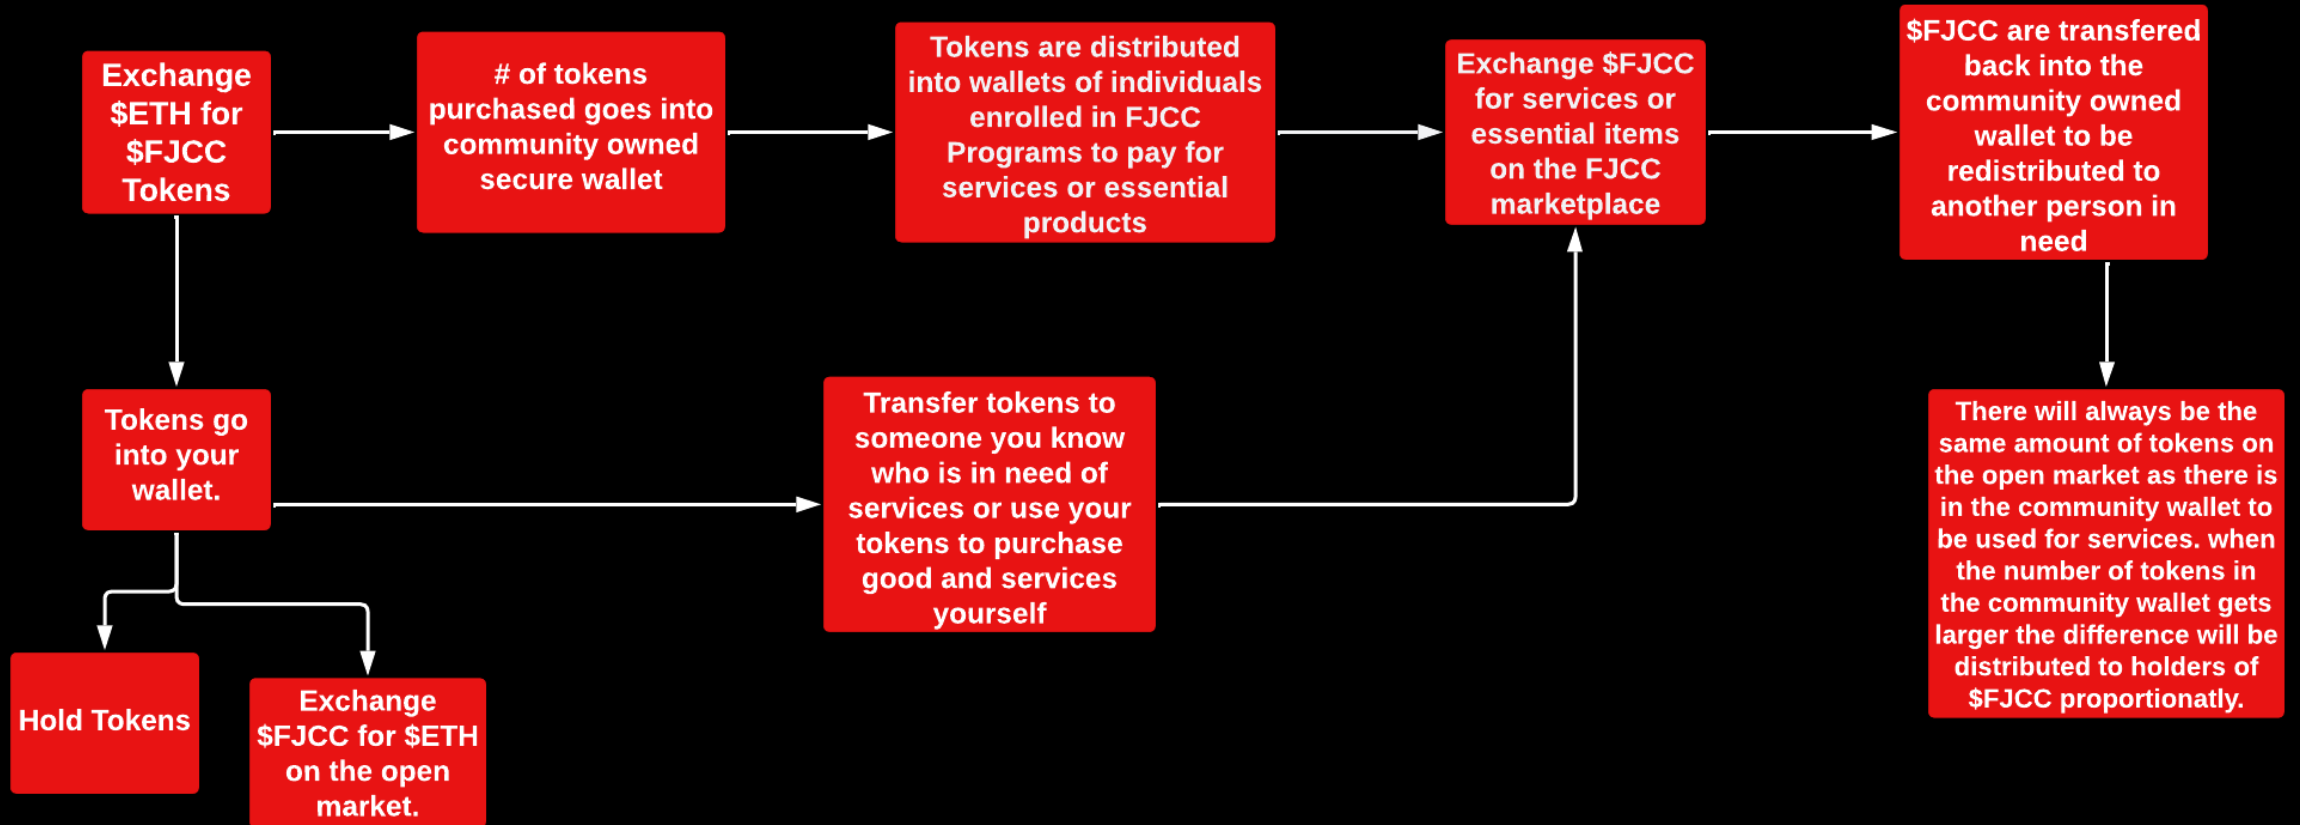

WHAT BLOCKCHAIN?

$FJCC was built on the Ethereum network as it is the most recognized blockchain. This was chosen because of its security and it is already well-established. We also made this choice because it was the best way to ensure we stay decentralized.

Our founder wanted to ensure that this project was free to change and evolve with zero outside regulations impacting it. All $FJCC holders are able to hold their own tokens in a wallet and collect payments, all while remaining independent of moderating forces.

HOW IT WORKS- THE BASICS

TOKENOMICS OF FJCC

$FJCC is a decentralized finance (DeFi) token that operated on the Ethereum blockchain (ERC-20).

$FJCC will launch their ICO on May 1st 2024 priced at .0000029 ETH.

23% of total supply will be available to early investors through a three level ICO. Level 1 investors will have input in the programs offered, access airdrops prior to listing on exchange, and various other rewards. We consider every ICO token holder a partner and you will be treated as such.

23% of total supply will be transferred to the community wallet to be used towards FJCC programs after completion of the ICO.

TOKEN / LOCK

At ICO 32% of the token supply is locked and it will be used for Exchange Listing, and reserve for FJCC programs. The wallet used for FJCC programs will be made public post ICO so all $FJCC holders can ensure these tokens are being used for their intended use. These tokens will only be locked for 3 months while we determine which exchange to release $FJCC on. $FJCC purchased at ICO will only be locked for 5 days.

DISTRIBUTION OF TOKENS

Distribution

ICO $FJCC holders will have many rewards including airdrops prior to Exchange listing, Access to events to vote on the programs we will be offering, and other rewards to be determined. We also have built a burn feature which we are prepared to use prior to listing on the exchange if it is needed to increase $FJCC holder value. We hope that ICO participants understand that for this project to be successful, it will require a large enough reserve in $FJCC. We also want to reiterate that on top of the great work we plan to do for our communities, increasing value for $FJCC holders is equally important for the ongoing success of this project. Our team is equally dedicated to both objectives.
