Brian is recognized for successfully completing IT projects, large and small, simple and complex. He builds on his proven track record of execution plus collaboration with diverse teams and industries. Brian is a small business advocate with a passion for delivering custom IT services and solutions that fit the needs of SMBs (Small to Medium Businesses).

Here are some comments from Brian's peers:

- Brian DiMambro is one of the best engineers I have had the pleasure of working with.
- I've known and worked Brian for many years. Brian is truly a professional in the Information Technology field.
- Brian has an innate ability to absorb, digest, develop, and deliver highly technical subject matter with ease and clarity.
- I worked with Brian at AT&T mobility. He was a key contributor of the delivery of critical infrastructure projects and is fun to work with to boot. Highly recommended!

In the enterprise space, Brian has had the privilege of working with some of the top technology and services companies on projects that cover IBM plug compatible mainframes to modern virtualized and cloud hosted IT services. He has worked as a data center infrastructure engineer for a major mobility telco, pre-sales technical support for data center TCO consolidation and optimization teams, post sales professional services and technical education design, development and delivery.

In the SMB space, Brian has provided secure and reliable cloud based services for businesses since 2010. Brian holds the IT seat of the Tuesday morning Truckee Meadows Networking group.

Brian is a lifelong learner receiving his training through USAF Technical Training Schools, deep industry experience and continuing education through both corporate and self-directed training programs.

Brian and his wife Vickie live in the Warm Springs Valley near Pyramid Lake Nevada. Vickie is past board chair for Safe Embrace domestic abuse shelter. Brian is a member of the Reno Cigar Lions which provides recycled Linux computers and training for under privileged children.
