

MINISTER'S MESSAGE

HIGAN OBSERVANCE AT THE AUTUMN EQUINOX

Did you know that our Higan Services in Spring and Autumn are a uniquely Japanese Buddhist Observance/Service?

“Higan, which means the ‘other shore’ of Nirvana or Enlightenment as opposed to ‘this shore’ of Samsara or Delusion, is observed by Japanese Buddhists during the spring and autumn equinox of each year. In Jodo Shinshu, the Higan observance is also called Sanbutsu-e or Gathering in Praise of the Buddha which is one of the two purposes of ritual gatherings—the other being to listen to the teachings. During these two times of the year in Japan, the days and nights are equal in length and the weather is neither too hot nor too cold. It was a time for Buddhists to meditate on the harmony of nature that pervades the universe and to devote oneself to the realization of this harmony in one’s own inner life.

The Higan observance is not mentioned in Indian or Chinese records and is believed to have originated in Japan in the time of Shotoku Taishi. The two times of the year are described in the Mediation Sutra as appropriate to the first meditation of facing the setting sun in the West, the symbolic direction of the Pure Land of Amida. Traditionally Higan is a week-long observance from March 18th-24th and September 20th-26th with the 4th day (March 21st and September 23rd) as the main day of observance. During the week-long observance of study and meditation, emphasis is placed on the observance of the Six Paramitas which bring us to “the other shore.” Paramita is the Sanskrit for “other shore.”

1. The Path of Giving-Dana
2. The Path of Right Behavior-Sila
3. The Path of Endurance and Patience-Ksanti
4. The Path of Endeavor or Effort-Virya
5. The Path of Meditation-Dhyana
6. The Path of Wisdom-Prajna

The Jodo Shinshu emphasis is upon the basic harmony of all elements of the universe as represented by the virtues of Amida Buddha. The o-naijin or the altar is a symbolic representation of Amida Buddha and the Pure Land of Enlightenment. Amida Buddha and the Pure Land is Higan or the “other shore” in a shape or form actively sharing itself with all of us so we may achieve ultimate peace and harmony.”

(Quote taken from "Traditions of Jodo Shinshu Hongwanji-ha" by Masao Kodani and Russell Hamada.)

Bodhisattva Dharmakara completed the above mentioned Six Paramitas to become Amida Buddha, the Buddha of Immeasurable Life and Infinite Light. For an ordinary person such as myself, it is impossible (for me) to perfect Six Paramitas to become enlightened. Amida Buddha had the foresight to see that not everyone (especially Eric Matsumoto) would be able to attain enlightenment, perfect peace, happiness and tranquility of Supreme Nirvana, by completing the Six Paramitas and thus instead shares the path to enlightenment through hearing the Buddha's Name, Namo Amida Butsu thereby attaining the Awakened True Entrusting which enables one to attain enlightenment with birth in the Pure Land of Enlightenment. "Although its (the Pure Land's) glorious splendour is described in physical terms in the sutras, this land is above all forms and concepts. It is the sphere of pure spiritual activity; those born there are awakened to the ultimate reality, and compassion spontaneously arises in them. In other words, having become bodhisattvas, they participate in Amida Buddha's endless work of delivering beings from delusion and suffering." (Quote taken from "The Three Pure Land Sutra" by Hisao Inagaki.)

On Sunday, September 14, 2025, 9AM, please join me for our Autumn Higan and Remembering the Seven Great Masters of Jodo Shinshu Service to find out why Shinran Shonin of the Hongwanji selected these seven individuals as our Great Masters. It was these Seven Masters from India, China and Japan that lead Shinran Shonin to the Teaching of Jodo Shinshu which he shares with us. May we experience peace and harmony in our life and world. Thank you and see you on September 14th!

In gassho,
Eric Matsumoto

MESSAGE FROM BISHOP TOSHIYUKI UMITANI

On August 14, 2025, to mark the 80th anniversary of the end of World War II, members of the Honpa Hongwanji Mission of Hawaii and community members gathered at the Honpa Hongwanji Hawaii Betsuin for a special Commemoration Service titled “In Remembrance and Reflection: Commemorating 80 Years Since the End of World War II.” During the Commemoration Service, Bishop Toshiyuki Umitani delivered the following aspiration.

In Remembrance and Reflection Commemorating 80 Years Since the End of World War II August 14, 2025

Aspiration

The Amida Tathagata, out of boundless compassion for beings lost in the defilements of this world, stood up and raised inconceivable vows, fulfilled the sacred practice of embracing and never abandoning a single being, and established the Pure Land of peace and bliss.

This compassionate calling of the Buddha, as the sacred Name, Namo Amida Butsu, resounds throughout the ten directions. The Buddha continues to call out to us, guiding all who wander in the darkness of ignorance.

And yet, this world of the three realms is like a burning house, ever impermanent. Our human ignorance and foolishness are deeply rooted. Consumed by desires for fame, gain, and pleasure, we ignite flames of anger and fall into endless conflict. We harm ourselves, we harm others, and the cycle does not cease.

Eighty years ago, the Second World War, a conflict that affected countries across the globe, came to an end. Countless precious lives were lost. Many cities were reduced to ruins. Many people lost their families, friends, homes, and endured unimaginable pain. How deep, how unbearable, their sorrow must have been.

The cries born from that suffering and the tears shed in that grief reach us today as a silent yet powerful plea for peace.

Shakyamuni Buddha taught: “Hatreds never cease by hatreds in this world. By love alone do they cease. This is an ancient Law.” He taught us that all living beings are interconnected, sharing in the great web of life. The path that destroys others is the path that ultimately destroys oneself. The path that allows others to live is the path on which we, too, are truly brought to life.

These timeless truths we must now, more than ever, take deeply into our hearts. In this time of division and conflict, may each of us gathered here today listen closely to these voices and embrace the aspirations of our predecessors who longed for a world of tranquility and harmony. May we uphold human dignity, nurture a mind of compassion, and ensure the tragedies of the past are never repeated.

Let us walk forward together—to carry forward the message of peace from our predecessors, to ease the suffering of those who live among us today, and to protect the smiles of those who are yet to be born.

With humble hearts, I offer this aspiration. Namo Amida Butsu.

Bishop Toshiyuki Umitani

While Peace Day becomes more important each year, this creative approach allows people worldwide to personally connect and promote peace. It has uplifted our spirits and adds a little sunshine to our lives for a memorable occasion. In the past, participants included women from Ukraine sharing their stories, Lahaina Jodo Mission sharing the moments of the 2023 Maui Wildfire, and guest speaker Ramona Okumura, a humanitarian working in Gaza with the Palestine Children’s Relief Fund to help fit prosthetics for young people.

Sharing Hawaii’s peace message, culture, and music is Hawaii’s Ambassador for Peace and ukulele virtuoso Jake Shimabukuro, who always makes this an event to remember!

PRE-WAR HONGWANJI NEWSLETTERS AVAILABLE ONLINE

Early last year, Rev. Daido Baba discovered a treasure in an unassuming cardboard box in storage at Headquarters: a near-complete set of the Kyodan Jiho, a Hongwanji Hawaii newsletter with issues spanning from 1921-1941. The content is mostly in Japanese, with some English-language content beginning October 1926 under the name Pacific Buddhist and later Buddhist Child.

The physical quality of the issues varied, but on the whole was good and suitable for professional scanning. We contracted AMI Systems to perform the scanning. They returned the originals to us along with electronic PDF files and high-resolution graphics (TIFFs).

We contacted Kaoru (Kay) Ueda, research fellow and the curator of the Japanese Diaspora Collections at the Hoover Institution Library & Archives at Stanford, about our find. Under a partnership agreement approved by the HMMH board of directors, we provided the electronic files to Kay to add to the few issues of the Kyodan Jiho they already had.

The collection is available online at <https://hojishinbun.hoover.org/en/newspapers/kjh>, allowing you to explore 20 years' worth of monthly issues. (A high-speed Internet connection is helpful.) As you explore and discover, please share your finds with archiveschair@honpahi.org.

Family Memorial Service

Buddhist consider the memorial service a significant occasion to remember the deceased with feelings of gratitude and love. The memorial service provides an opportunity to pay tribute and recall cherished memories of the departed, while listening to the Buddha Dharma. The service is not for appeasing the spirits of the deceased or for the sake of the deceased, but rather for the sake of the living. In remembering the deceased we acknowledge their influence on our lives as well as the importance of living the Buddha Dharma.

If your family would like to arrange a memorial service for your loved one, please call Reverend Eric Matsumoto at (808)-488-5685, or leave a message on the office phone: (808)-487-2626. You may schedule the service either before or after the memorial date.

LIVING GRATITUDE

Fall 2025

LIVING GRATITUDE . . .

An investment for the future of Shin Buddhism in Hawaii.

The Jodo Shinshu teachings have enriched my life during happy times and brought peace and understanding during difficult times. I am forever thankful for the many unrepeatable nembutsu moments I shared with family and friends at my mother's 100th birthday celebration. On the other hand, the sudden passing of my father in a traffic accident before New Year was extremely challenging. But the Dharma helped me accept the fleeting, ever-changing nature of life and I remember Dad with gratitude.

I would like others to experience the Teachings that have the power to nurture deep gratitude during happy as well as difficult times. I want to ensure the future of Jodo Shinshu Buddhism in Hawaii. I believe the Dharma is a treasure!

~Terry Jean Arakaki

The Issei immigrants planted the seeds of Jodo Shinshu in Hawaii, and through hardship and adversity, those teachings took root and blossomed – like a twisted trunk growing into a strong tree of Dharma, symbolized by the Bodhi leaves. Today, we carry forward their legacy by living each day in gratitude, guided by the Nembutsu.

Now more than ever, our temples have the potential to shine as beacons of wisdom and compassion – welcoming temples where people of all ages and walks of life can discover meaning, connection, and inner peace.

Let us walk this path together – deepening our awareness, nurturing our hearts, and helping to build a more compassionate and harmonious society. We invite you to be a part of this living tradition and together, let us shape a brighter future grounded in the timeless teachings of the Buddha.
