HEIDI

Shit, honey. I know I was supposed to pick you up for your appointment. I'm stuck at work. Erica called in with the flu and I'm the only other nurse's aide on today, so I volunteered to pick up her shift.

EVAN

It's fine.

HEIDI

It's just, they announced more budget cuts this morning, so anything I can do to show that I'm, you know, a team player...

EVAN

It's fine. I'll take the bus.

HEIDI

(relieved) Perfect. That's perfect. Oh and I'm going straight from here to class, so I won't be home until late, so please eat something. We've got those Trader Joe's dumplings in the freezer...

EVAN

Maybe.

HEIDI

Did you write one of those letters yet? Dr. Sherman's expecting you to have one.
"Dear Evan Hansen. This is going to be a good day and here's why."

EVAN

Yeah, no, I already finished it. I'm in the computer lab right now, printing it out.

HEIDI

I hope it was a good day, honey.

EVAN

It was... yeah, it was really great.

HEIDI

Oh great. I hope it's the beginning of a great year. I think we both could use one of those, huh? Shit. I have to run. Bye. I love you.
