

FINAL FOUR

Well, we've made it. Or some of us have. If you're named in this recap, you are one of the fortunate few in the Final Four. One more win and a prize will be coming your way.

In Pool #1 it's Bo Lebon with mighty U Conn vs Frank Pisano with the unlikely 11 seed NC State. The other semi-final features Paul Korinth hoping Alabama to at least keep it close against Bev Liedler and favored Purdue.

Pool #2 has only 3 players left in the race. Matt Durocher is the only one left with two teams working. Gotta like his chances to make the finals, perhaps in both and if so, he would be playing against himself and snare both prizes. But there's a lot of work to be done. He needs NC State to at least cover against Mike Pasch and U Conn. In a quirky coincidence, Bev Liedler drew Purdue in this pool too. So it's two finals or none for Bev. Her opponent - - Matt Durocher of course with his 2nd underdog of the day, Alabama. Lotta moving parts in Pool #2.

Pool #3 pits Stu Schrenzel with U Conn vs Brian Anderson and NC State. Stu wants to win of course but truth be told he's got more interest in the other game. As a proud Purdue alum, he will be rootin' the Boilermakers on all the way! Purdue is held by first time in any of our pools Louis Adams. Beginners luck may be on his side, but he's up against Kristin Aiello with 'Bama. If that name sounds familiar it's 'cause Kris has had good fortune in ALL our pools over a number of years. We'll find out Saturday!
